BONDS FOR SALE.

The Board of Trustees of the First Presbyterian Church, of Fort Wayne, Ind., issue January 25, 1886, $25,000 in bonds, secured by first mortgage on lots 183 and 184, Original Pl. 1, and the new church building, valued at $90,000. The bonds bear interest at the rate of 6 percent per annum, payable semi-annually at the First National Bank, of Fort Wayne, Ind. They are payable in two, three, five, seven and ten years as the investors may desire, with the rights reserved to the board to call in any of the bonds maturing in five, seven or ten years at any time after three years upon giving thirty days notice of such intention. Parties desiring a safe investment are invited to send bids to Fred J. Hayden, Secretary of the board, on or before January 25, next. These bonds are issued in denominations of one hundred dollars each, thus affording an opportunity to procure such amounts as are desired. Parties desiring further information are invited to apply to the undersigned members of the Board of Trustees.

SATURDAY, JAN. 23, 1886.

THE CITY.

R. J. Fisher was at Toledo yesterday. Mrs. Robert Ogden went to Detroit this morning.

Judge Hench has returned and is presiding in the superior court. Louisa Mariotte sues Adam Cognet for $100. Chapin & O'Rourke are counsel for the woman.

Eva Long sues John Long et al. for a partition of property. A. H. Bittinger filed the complaint.

The number of convicts received at the northern prison at present is larger than of those discharged.

Mary D. Moderwell yesterday got judgment for $229.14 against George A. Fry et al., in the circuit court.

John W. Stine has instituted suit to recover $650 from John C. O'Rourke. A. H. Bittinger is attorney for Mr. Stine.

Surveyor O. B. Wiley did not attend the meeting of surveyors at Indianapolis but is attending to his office work here.

The new almanac season is here; you can have your choice without money and without price at any of the drug stores.

The original West End Coasting club went to Wm. McIntosh's home, on the New Haven road, last night, and had a delightful time.

About April 1 the Kerr Murray Manufacturing company will have their new shop completed and then a large force of men will be put to work there.

"P. S. O'Rourke, of Fort Wayne, has sent out over our county quite extensively his reason why he should be sent to congress," says the Lagrange Democrat.

"The Register seems to be out for P. S. O'Rourke for congress. This gentleman appears to be getting a hearty endorsement from republican papers," says the Lagrange Democrat.

Mr. Henry Monning and a friend had a theater party at S. Aulan's entertainment last night. After the show Mr. and Mrs. John Mohr very nicely entertained the party at their mansion home, on Clinton street.

Valentine day will occur on Sunday this year. The young folks should arrange with Postmaster Kaough to keep the office open all day. Mr. Kaough is a bachelor and can appreciate the importance of the occasion.

The mandamus proceedings, instituted by R. C. Bell, to recover $1,000 from Adams county, are under consideration by the court, at Decatur. If the verdict unfavorable Mr. Bell will institute suit in another form.

Mr. Emmet during the play of "Fritz in Ireland" next Monday evening will give all of the celebrated songs and dances belonging to the play and will be supported by his own selected musicians. His company is an extraordinarily strong one.

Judge Hench gave Wm. Lichtsinn judgment for $248, against Henry Stillhorn and named J. W. Hayden, Geo. W. Brackenridge and W. H. Goshorn commissioners to examine into the partition suit of L. M. Jones vs. Elizabeth Barnett.

The 22d of February—Washington's birthday—comes on Monday this year. The day was formerly celebrated to a greater extent than of late years. This is, perhaps, owing to the fact that since the late war the number of days that can be celebrated with propriety have greatly increased.

County Treasurer Dalman has so far redeemed $15,000 county orders. Interest on all the papers ceased yesterday and holders will, of course, have them cashed. There will be money enough in the treasury to redeem all outstanding orders and run the county on a cash basis and business principal.

The sleighing party, gotten up by an East Wayne street young lady to Five Points last night, met with a mishap. The sleigh broke down on their return and the party had to walk home, arriving at six o'clock this morning. They resembled very much a party of gypsies coming into town, carrying their muffs, wraps, etc.

The superior court jury was drawn this afternoon to meet January 27: David Opdyke, Cedar Creek; Martin Mandy, Cedar Creek; Wm. Dickerson, Monroe; Benjamin Schlatter, Cedar Creek; John McIntosh, Madison; Celestin Gladio, Jefferson; William B. Reed, Adams; Thomas Gorman, Lake; James English, Madison; Wm. J. Mayo, El River; M. E. Argo, Madison; Nicholas Munch, Madison.

A well known Irish gentleman, who lately attended Messrs Ward and Hughes' temperance meetings, resolved to swear off and no one would probably ever hear of it but for a remark he made the other morning when he stepped into a certain place and while calling the man to one side, said: "Mister ———, I swore off. I will take a limonade, but if you could just as well unbeknownst to yourself and myself, put a stick in it, I should be obliged to you."

Capt. Henry McKinnie is in the city. Celery is now bleached by tying a newspaper around it.

Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage is now preaching a series of thirteen sermons on the "wedding ring."

Harry Borden and John Morris, jr., gave a pleasant reception at the Standard club parlors last evening.

Mrs. Manier, now familiarly known as Mother Pollette, is lying at the point of death at the home of Joseph Parry.

Will Wheeler, of Lima, Ohio, was fined for drunkenness by the mayor. His father is president of a bank at Lima.

Rt. Rev. D. B. Knickerbocker, bishop of Indiana, will hold divine services in St. Andrew's church, at Warsaw, next Wednesday evening, January 27.

Rev. Father Romer, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Church, has returned from Mishawaka, where he served in the absence of Rev. A. B. Oechtering.

George A. Dickson is in no way interested in Prof. A. C. McKnight's engagement here. Mr. Dickson came here to bid for the lease of the Masonic Temple.

The lecture of Hon. T. P. Keator, at LaGro last week, was postponed on account of the weather being so bad. Mr. Keator will lecture at LaGro in the near future.

The Bass foundry is now running day and night on large orders from the Pullman Palace Car company for car wheels. They are now turning out on an average two hundred per day.

One of the Huntington papers says that Brakeman John McDermott has quit the service of the company and removed to Wabash, where he will "tend cattle" for a live stock shipper.

Mr. Scanlan tossed the "Red Rose" to Mrs. R. J. Fisher, who sat in Mr. J. H. Bass' box. Mr. Scanlan was tendered a reception at the residence of Mr. R. J. Fisher on the occasion of his former visit here.

J. K. Emmet, the most successful comedian on the stage, will present "Fritz in Ireland" at the Temple opera house next Monday evening. The company carries its own scenery, orchestra and calcium lights.

Postmaster General Vilas has reappointed Alonzo Burt superintendent of the fifth division of the railway mail service. The "fifth" is this division and Mr. Burt was recently in this city to make a few postal changes.

The indications for the lower lake region, as reported by the weather bureau at Washington to THE SENTINEL, are as follows: Fair weather, colder in eastern portion, stationary, followed by slowly rising temperature in the western portion.

Any railroad or factory men knowing of cases of sickness or injury will confer a favor upon the committee of the Railroad Y. M. C. A., who attend to and aid the sick and injured, by giving notice of the same at the Railroad Reading rooms.

"Prof. Arthur McNight, who presented the "Nalad Queen" in this city a few years ago, has just closed a successful engagement at Toledo, and is now at Fort Wayne making arrangements for the production there of the fairy operetta," says the Lafayette Courier.

A very dangerous counterfeit dollar has made its appearance. It looks like a new dollar, bearing the date of 1885, but is a trifle larger and will not go through the tester. The weight and ring are perfect, but the milling of the edge and the stamping of the eagle are not quiet as plain as the genuine.

Mr. Mason Long yesterday bought R. F. Keith's interest in the Fort Wayne organ factory for $10,000 cash. The stock cost Mr. Keith $4,000. The increase shows the growth of the business it represents and the fat dividends it commands. It is now settled that Mr. Keith will remove from this city.

Little Kate Rooney, daughter of Pat Rooney, had some misunderstanding with her amible pa the other day. She had some difficulty with her father while the company was playing in Peoria and left to go to Baltimore, where she has relatives. Mr. Rooney intercepted his daughter by telegraph at Bloomington, and she was arrested on the east bound Wabash train and rejoined the company.

The Pittsburg road have placed in the residences of W. H. Simons and Martin Mayfield, and also the telegraph office, at Warsaw, magnetic bells in case of wrecks so that the operator can instantly call them, saving from one to three hours delay. They have also been placed in the Valparaiso, Lima and Upper Sandusky offices, where other construction trains are stationed. The Fort Wayne gang can likewise be summoned at a moment's notice.

The Concordia college students, last night, gave a concert at college hall, which was crowded to its utmost capacity notwithstanding the extremely cold weather. Many people from the country and small towns attended, coming in sleighs. The program was nicely arranged and was carried out with great skill by the young students and was well received by the audience, who showed their appreciation by frequent applause. The Street Car company placed several cars at the disposal of those who came out after the performance.

Mrs. George Hitzeman is quite ill. Col. R. S. Robertson has been appointed guardian of Horace Hanna.

Nine persons were baptised yesterday morning at the Christian church.

Frank Goeke has been appointed guardian of the children of Charles Lechner.

Mrs. Hannah Nirdlinger has sued Louis Bourie et al. for $3,500 on a mortgage.

Miss Minnie Ellison and Miss Mary Fahling went east for a visit to friends, last evening.

Mr. Cy. Shaft, of Arcola, left yesterday for Florida, and thinks something of locating there.

J. Pottitzer, of Lafayette; A. J. Setwart, Bluffton, and B. F. Fisher, Van Wert, are at the Aveline.

A. B. Tonsly is at home from the insane asylum, cured. He went insane over the death of his child.

Regular service to-morrow morning and evening at the First Presbyterian church. Sunday school at 2.30. All invited.

The Fort Wayne polo team beat the Huntington club last night. To-night both clubs play here at the Princess rink and a good game is anticipated. There will be skating before and after the polo contest.

At Altoona, Pa., the employees in the Pennsylvania company's boiler and blacksmith shops have received orders to go on full time—ten hours a day—until further orders. This will affect between 400 and 500 men.

Mr. McKnight comes to this city highly recommended by the clergy of the different cities in which he has taught. We are pleased to know that his meeting this afternoon was largely attended by the young ladies of the city.

G. E. Bursley & Co., the wholesale merchants, have purchased the Kilian Baker property, on the east side of Calhoun street, between Washington and Jefferson streets, and will build a splendid business block on it in the spring.

At the Academy to-night Messrs. Hughes and Ward will decide whether or not to stay longer. Their lease of the Academy closes to-night. There is talk of leasing the Princess rink, but not enough of money appears on the surface.

The St. Julian council No. 89, Catholic Benevolent Legion, will give a grand installation banquet at the Fox parlors, next Wednesday evening. The association has been most successful and THE SENTINEL will be represented at their gathering.

Mason Long this afternoon refused to lease the Temple opera house. The association wanted him to rent the house for four years and give them the privilege of making him keep it for nine years. Dickson's bid is now before the Temple association. In either event Charley Woodworth will be assistant manager.

The ladies' auxiliary of the R. R. Y. M. C. A., will hold a special meeting on Tuesday, Jan. 26, at 2 p. m., at the Railroad Reading rooms, to prepare for the reception to be given to members on February 5. A full attendance is requested. Ladies are requested to bring their thimbles and needles as there will be some sewing to be done.

DARING RASCALS.

In Daylight Mrs. August Bair is Assaulted, Chloroformed and Robbed of $15.

Mr. August Bair, who is employed by Frank B. Vogel, the merchant tailor, and lives at 283 East Jefferson street, related a most daring occurrence to Deputy Prosecutor Bittinger this morning. Yesterday afternoon in broad daylight two men entered his house and accosted his wife. The insolence of the fellows frightened the woman and she ordered the strangers from her house. They struck her on the head with the side of a hatchet or hammer. The blow cut an ugly gash and the lady fell insensible. The men chloroformed her when she attempted to get up and from that time she knows nothing of their work. Mr. Bair says the thieves stole $15 from a bureau drawer and ransacked every portion of the house. Mrs. Bair is soon to become a mother, and the fright has prostrated her. She has seen the men about her house three or four times and says she can recognize them. Her sworn statement was taken this afternoon and the police are working up the clue she gives them. This is the most daring robbery committed here for a long time.

Real Estate Transfers.

Olds Bros., real estate agents, room No. 8, Foster block, report the following recorded real estate transfers:

Benj. F. Rice to Bennet B. Evans, by quit claim deed, lot 71, Fletcher's addition.

Mary E. Gay and J. C. Gay to John F. Rhodes by warranty deed, lots 51 and 52 Huhertown for $350.

In the treatment of all nervous and muscular diseases, such as rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatic, tic douloureux, semicrania, &c., the value of Salvation Oil cannot be over-estimated. It kills pain. Price twenty-five cents a bottle.

SLICK PEOPLE.

Fort Wayne Lightning Rod Men Reaping a Harvest in Huntington County.

A gang of lightning rod agents have been working the adjoining county of Huntington, and the Herald says that within the last few days several farmers have fallen victims to their transactions and one who was duped to the tune of over $200, called and asked that the racket be exposed. The Herald does it as follows: "A man giving his name as Charles Hugh, of Fort Wayne, drove up to the residence of Mr. John Hamrick, a few days since, and after much effort succeeded in getting that gentleman interested in the subject of electricity—using a small battery for experiments. To be brief about it, he wanted to rod Mr. Hamrick's building as a sample job for 'advertising' and offered to do it for six dollars; for every sixteenth of a cent it would cost over that amount he would forfeit five dollars. Printed articles of agreement were produced and signed by both parties. The rodders came along in a day or two and after doing the work said that according to contract the amount due the company was one hundred and three dollars and a half. Mr. Hamrick was compelled to give his note for that sum due in ninety days. Had it not been that the contractor was made to erase a clause in the article charging extra for ground-rods, points, braces and vanes, the amount would have footed up to $600.00."

A BIG COMPANY.
Hon. R. C. Bell, Supt. W. W. Worthington and L. N. White to Establish Nut Lock Works Here.

Hon. R. C. Bell, Supt. W. W. Worthington and Luther N. White have formed an association for the manufacture of the White Victor nut locks for railroad bolts. The capital stock of the company is $100,000 and the works are to be established here. The nut lock is patented by Mr. White and while it is simple, it is just what railroad men have wanted for years. By a little contrivance in the nut it is turned on a bolt and a notch in the inner side prevents it from slipping off or being twisted from its holdings. It is to be used especially to connect the steel and iron rails on tracks and switches. Never yet has anyone made a nut that would not slip off and leave its place in the jolting and rattling that railroad iron is subjected to. The White Victor nut has been tested on a dozen rail roads for seven months and testimonials to its worth came to the owners in every instance. The invention is bound to take and before long another machine shop and foundry may spring up here.

ONE MORE.
The Supreme Court Acts on Another Allen County Suit.

The decision of the Allen circuit court in the case of Monah Frank, administrator, vs. Jeremiah Grimes has been reversed by the state court and Judge Hawk says: "Where the transcript shows that interrogatories were answered by the jury, their answers over the signature of their foreman, were returned by them into court with their general verdict and recorded with the verdict, and that the attention of the trial court was directed to the special findings of the jury by the plaintiff's motion for judgment non obstante veredicto, but is silent whether the court ever submitted such interrogatories or instructed the jury to answer, the presumption will be indulged that the court did its statutory duty, and the special findings will be regarded as properly in the verdict. (2) The special finding and the general verdict cannot be reconciled, so the cause must be reversed."

What the N. Y. Herald Says of Prof. McKnight.

Of Prof. A. C. McKnight, the "boy orator," now in the city, the New York Herald said before he encountered Jesse James and his almost fatal bullet: "The wonderfully talented Arthur C. McKnight, delivered his second oration at Cooper Institute last night to a large, discriminating and fashionable audience. The elocutionary and oratorical powers of this young man are something to be marvelled at; no idea of his eloquence can be conveyed to one who has not heard him. He has been appropriately styled the Demosthenes of Young America, and we unhesitatingly join with the press of this country and Europe in pronouncing him the most gifted and eloquent youth to whom we have ever listened. His gestures are forcible and eloquent; his manner natural and full of grace; his voice powerful and under good control; his orations scholastic and full of original thought and sound sense. He is a model for our American youths, and although he has been petted and caressed by the learned and great both of this country and Europe, conscious superiority and lofty airs are to him a stranger, and through life he bids fair to remain as he stands to-day, the embodiment of unassuming purity."

A NEW HOUSE.

Leo and Julius Pottlitzer, of Lafayette, Open a Wholesale Fruit House Here.

Messrs. Leo and Julius Pottlitzer, of Lafayette, have leased the old Huestia & Hamilton store room, on Columbia street, and will at once establish a wholesale fruit, vegetable and general house. It is not a retail or commission house but strictly a wholesale arrangement to supply not only the merchants of Fort Wayne, but all Northern Indiana and parts of Michigan and Ohio. The gentlemen are well known business men of Lafayette. Mr. Julius Pottlitzer will manage the Fort Wayne house, and THE SENTINEL welcomes the new business which adds to our wealth.

SEVEN YEARS.

Elias Hobbs Gets That Term for an Awful Crime.

Elias 'Hobbs, who formerly lived in this county, was tried at Decatur yesterday for a nameless assault on his thirteen-year old daughter. The jury was out less than a half hour and came in with a verdict sentencing Hobbs up for seven years. Sheriff Nelson testified in the case. Hobbs was his prisoner for a while after the crime. The story of the awful crime is known hereabouts. The verdict of the jury was scarcely severe enough for the brute.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

W. J. Scanlan and party presented "Shane-na-Lawn" to a very good house last night. The star sang all his pretty ballads and pleased the audience. The play has a pretty fair plot and is devoid of "fillains" and tiresome situations. The people supporting the star are good enough, in fact Miss Warren and Miss Hadley and W. R. Ogden are clever in their parts. Mr. Scanlan is not as good in Irish comedy as Mr. J. F. Beegan, of this city, and we have seen both gentlemen in similar roles.

Monday evening next, "Fritz" Emmet will appear in this city. Last week he played to a $1,000 house at Toledo, and hundreds were turned away unable to find seats. Joe Emmet is without a rival in his line, and the simple announcement of his name is enough to pack the Temple opera house to the doors. He gives us "Fritz in Ireland, or the Bell Ringer of the Rhine and the Love of the Shamrock."

Messrs. Brady & Garwood open the Academy next Monday evening and will continue to give us clean, entertaining attractions. Starr's Opera company is the first party billed and Monday night and Tuesday matinee they give "La Mascotte." Tuesday night and Wednesday matinee and night they give "The Mikado." Thursday night they appear in the "Chimes of Normandy." Friday matinee and night they sing "Girofle-Girofla," and Saturday matinee and night it is "Olivette."

Mr. L. D. North, 473 W. Madison street Chicago, Illinois, writes us that he has had forty years experience with cough medicines in his family, and considers Red Star Cough Cure the best of them all.

Deaths of a Week.

These deaths are reported here by the undertakers last week: Walter S. Tylor, aged 5 years, scarlet fever; Nelson D. Lindley, 50 years, Bright's disease; Charles F. Benedict, 21 years, typhoid fever; Henry Hitzeman, 1 year, inflammation of bowels; Charles Schroeder, 4 weeks, cramps; Charles Lechner, 41 years, consumption.

Charles A. Roberts, of East Wilson, N. Y., had thirteen scrofulous ulcers on his face and neck. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured them.

The state bureau of statistics' report for last year shows that 183,011 pounds of feathers were packed and sold in the state and 4,612,177 pounds of wool were clipped; 17,402,784 rods of drain tile are in use in Indiana which is an increase of about 3,000,000 in one year.

Rheumatism

We doubt if there is, or can be, a specific remedy for rheumatism; but thousands who have suffered its pains have been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla. If you have failed to find relief, try this great remedy.

"I was afflicted with rheumatism twenty years. Previous to 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse, and at one time was almost helpless. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. BALCOM, Shirley Village, Mass.

"I had rheumatism three years, and got no relief till I took Hood's Sarsaparilla. It has done great things for me. I recommend it to others." LEWIS BURBANK, Biddeford, Me.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is characterized by three peculiarities: 1st, the combination of re-educating agents; 2d, the proportion; 3d, the process of securing the active medicinal qualities. The result is a medicine of unusual strength, effecting cures hitherto unknown. Send for book containing additional evidence.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla tones up my system, purifies my blood, sharpens my appetite, and seems to make me over." J. P. THOMPSON, Register of Deeds, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla beats all others, and is worth its weight in gold." I. BARRINGTON, 130 Bank Street, New York City.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass. 100 Doses 75 Cents.

WASHINGTON.

The Senate at Work Alone To-day.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The chair laid before the senate a letter from the secretary of the treasury saying that the amount of the bonds called for payment February 1, 1886, held by national banks as a basis for circulation, was $50,009,850. Senator Wallhall, of Mississippi, was sworn in to-day.

HOUSE.

Mr. Bragg, of Wisconsin, announced the death of his colleague, Mr. Rankin, and offered the customary resolutions which were unanimously adopted and the house adjourned. The speaker named a committee of congressmen to attend the funeral.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

Civil Service Commissioner Eaton has resigned his place.

Ex-Senator J. E. McDonald and Hon. John C. New are at the Riggs.

The president will attend a charity ball at Baltimore to-night. He says he will soon make a tour through the south.

President Cleveland has decided to instruct cabinet officers to furnish no information as to suspensions from office. He regards the power of absolute removal as a presidential prerogative.

Mrs. Senator Voorhees and daughter have issued invitations to their friends to be present at a "tea" this evening. Cards are also out for friends of Miss Voorhees for a "tea" on Monday, Feb. 1, when dancing will be in order.

Col. D. S. Alexander, late fifth auditor of the treasury, is in the city on a brief visit. Colonel Alexander made hosts of warm friends during his residence here, all of whom will be glad of the opportunity to grasp his hand once more. His presence is especially gratifying to the members of the grand army of the republic, whom he served faithfully and well in distinguished positions.—Washington Capitol.

RAIN AND SLEET

Shut off Communication West of the Rockies.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.
CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Another severe rain and sleet storm is reported raging west of the Rocky Mts., and telegraph communication is again practically severed between the east and California.

Gone to Meet the Angels.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.
EVANSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 25.—A special to the Journal, from Henderson, Ky., says: "At 2 o'clock this morning a mob took Calvin Simpson, the mulatto murderer of Mrs. Graves, from the jail and hung him to a tree, a half mile from town, after which they riddled the body with bullets."

A Conference With Mexico.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.
CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 25.—It is probable that the government will propose to the United States to the holding of a special monetary conference in relation to the legalized depreciation of the Mexican dollar in the United States as compared to the Bland dollar.

Joseph Bennegan and A. Luetring have opened the Tremont house saloon. They will set a warm lunch every morning from 9 to 11 and on Saturday evenings.

THE HOOSIERS

And Gossip About People We Know.

Sixty carloads of ice have been shipped from Lake Maxinkuckee to Indianapolis within the past week.

Indiana is so called from the Indians. The original name of the word is "river." The nickname is the "Hoosier state."

The Indianapolis Sentinel is busily engaged in sending out thousands of copies of Senator Beck's silver speech. The damage by the fire to the Mishawaka high school building will not exceed $1,600. The building originally cost $75,000.

Pretty near every county newspaper in northern Indiana was caught by the dead beat Walter Gray, of Georgia minstrel fame.

The Knights of Labor, of Wabash 200 strong, have resolved that if any lawyer comes out for office in that city next spring, they will "spot" him.

Ex-Gov. Porter will deliver a lecture on "Hamilton and Jefferson" before the Southern Indiana Teachers' Association, which meets at Vincennes, March 24, 25 and 26.

A young lad named Doty employed at Hook Bros.' tub factory at Portland had his head crushed in by a revolving pulley bursting and striking him in the forehead. He will die.

S. R. Bryant, a leading business man of Valparaiso, and a prominent Mason, died in that city last week of consumption, at the age of 64. He was well known in this city.

Pat Rooney and the "Bandit King," company were booked for the same date, Saturday night, at Logansport. They played jointly and divided the receipts, thereby settling a bad controversy.

Indiana has 703 newspapers and periodicals, 76 daily, 3 tri-weekly, 20 semi-weekly, 469 weekly, 1 bi-weekly, 11 semi-monthly, 58 monthly, 52 Sunday, 9 bi-monthly and 4 quarterly publications.

A great temperance revival is in progress at a little town called Coal Bluff, near Brazil. Out of a mining population of 200, 142 have signed the pledge, a number of the signers being saloon keepers.

Mr. G. W. Cobb, of Indianapolis, who is supported largely by the railroad companies in his evangelical work among railroad employees, is at Connersville conducting revival services at the Presbyterian Church.

Attorney General Hord, who in sight-seeing abroad, says, in a private letter, that while he was at the railway station in Berlin he observed only two things that were American. One was a bottle labeled "Old Kentucky Whiskey" and the other a picture of Cleveland and Hendricks.

George Ford and John B. Stoll, of South Bend; Judge Osborn, A. F. Milde, Laporte; W. S. Marshall, Warsaw; C. G. Conn, Elkhart; Dan McDonald, Plymouth, and J. H. Winterbotham, Michigan City, are being mentioned by the democratic papers of the district in connection with the next congressional nomination.

Ice packers at Wabash and Warsaw have during the past week packed about ten thousand tons, but the recent rains have destroyed the entire crop, and dealers now predict that not another pound will be housed this season. Indiana's ice supply will next summer come from Michigan and Wisconsin. The ice packed there was nine inches in thickness, and of excellent quality.

Gilbert Yost, the fourteen-year-burglar, doing time in the northern prison, will, we dare say, regret to learn that two of his old New York pals, Burglars Johnny Porter and "Sheeney" Mike, are under arrest at Troy, N. Y., for a $12,000 diamond robbery committed three years ago. These two criminals were hand-in-hand with Yost during the latter's balmy days as a crook.

The Waterloo Fair association has designated Wednesday as school day, on which all pupils who were enrolled in any of the public schools of the county at any time during the school year of 1885-86 and were in attendance not less than twenty days, all teachers who taught in any of the public schools of the county at any time during said year, and all school trustees and ex-school trustees, who served as trustees at any time during the year shall be admitted into the fair grounds free of charge; and offer as premiums for school work, twenty five dollars.

I am going to tell you a capital tale, To be free from all pain and hearty and hale, St. Jacobs Oil use, it never will fail.

A "CORN-SHUCKING."

Away Down in Georgia in Old Plantation Days.

I suppose our Yankee friends would call it a "husking-bee," as they are wont to call other such gatherings "parting bees," "quilting bees," etc. But we call it a corn-shucking. You must imagine that it is early autumn. The foliage of the distant woodlands has taken on all the variegated colors of the rainbow. There are gum trees and maples whose tops are one sheet of flame, oaks and towering hickories crowned with a mass of orange and golden colored leaves. The persimmon trees are loaded with their luscious fruit, and the late summer grapes hang in rich purple clusters along the fence rows, next to the swamp. The pines alone are not affected by the change of season. They rise, gaunt and grim, their sombre foliage taking on a deeper tint by the contrast of colors.

The pile of rough corn diminishes rapidly, the shucks are being carried away by the boys, who have some high old times practicing gymnastics on the yielding pile, and the glistening ears fall thick and fast on the accumulating pile of clear corn.

There has been an interesting light in the East for some minutes, and now the full autumn moon rises above the tree tops, and glides up the purple sky in all majestic and bewildering splendor. By her light we see the dusky faces, and the fantastic movements of the long rows of brawny arms that are busily working, all unconscious of the hardness of the labor, so interested are they in the songs of the leader.

Suddenly, at a signal from Charlie, all hands stop, and the "Old Marster," approaches the leader with a fat looking brown jug and a tin cup. He speaks a word to Charlie, who makes obeisance, and in a loud voice calls out:

"Silence! Gem'lan friends! I drinks dis to de healt ob de good marster, de mistis, de young master, de missies, may dey live long an' be happy!" Amid prolonged cheers the toast is drank first by Charlie, and then the jug is passed along the line, each man drinking his "speck" to de marster and mistis; should the first give out another is put in the hands of the servitor, and particular pains is taken to see that all are treated alike. Then the leader strikes up:

Fifty weight ob Johnny cake
Fifty weight ob cheese,
A big pet ob hominy,
An' a little pot ob peas.

"O! Jenny, ain't yo ash cake done, my darlin'?"

Jenny, ain't yo ash cake done, my dear?"

Away they go, and the laugh and song, included with jests at the expense of the leader, who is sure to be ready with a fitting repartee, are kept until the last lubbin' is slunked. Then comes the tug of war. For some time there has been wafted on the breeze from the great kitchen a most delicious aroma. Now the tables are laid with a bounteous repast for the white neighbors in doors. For the darkeys, who are in the majority, long tables have been improvised beneath the great trees in the yard. Large fires are kindled so that the tables are well lighted, and buxom servant maids cast long side-glances at bashful-looking swains of dusky hue, as they move briskly, piling up and arranging leaves of brown bread and the dishes of meats, potatoes, vegetables and other eatables. Charlie directs the movements of the banqueters, and they are soon ranged along each side of the long table.

"Hats off, boys, an' t'ention while Popper Joe axes de blessing." A venerable negro, whose woolly locks are scant and gray, approaches the head of the board. Slowly and reverently he lifts his palsied and withered hand. All heads are instantly bowed in reverence.

"O! Heav'nly Marster! Bress 'im in braskit an' in store. Bress 'e fambly, an' 'e servants, an' 'e proptty, an' all dat am his'n. An' grant, oh! good Lord, an' sanctify dis food to de good ob our pe'ishin' bodies, an' feed our souls on de bread of life, fo' Jesus' sake. Amen!"

"Now, des' he'y yo'selves, boys," cries Charlie, and straightway they proceed to devour the tempting viands. After supper, in response to a request from the master, they sing a few of their wild plantation songs, and then disperse in all directions.—M. M. Foisom, in the Valdosta, Ga. Times.

THERE is some discussion upon the equestrian performance of cowboys, shared the defenders and opponents of the western riders. One says: "Take a cowboy cutting out cattle. He sits his horse with perfect grace, scarcely a perceptible motion in seat, while the horse is going at full speed. But when the cowboy comes East and rides a trotting horse in the English style his horsemanship meets a severer test. A master of a riding school near Boston says that one of the most singular pupils was a cowboy who could not keep his seat on an English saddle."

OHIO SENATE.

The Republican Wing Meet Early this Morning.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 25.—The republican senate met at 10 a. m. with all the members present and the democrats absent as well as Clerk Vallandigham.

President Kennedy ordered the reading of the journal of Saturday, after which nothing was done for want of a quorum. The president retained the chair waiting for the arrival of the democratic members. It is expected this will be the program until 4 p. m., the hour to which the democratic senate adjourned on Friday. A good sized lobby is present and the best of feeling prevails.

The majority of the republicans in the senate agreed on a general line of action: That no business shall be transacted until an understanding is reached as to the powers and differences between the democratic majority and the presiding officer.

The feeling between the factions is more bitter than ever this morning. Cooler heads on both sides are cautioning against violence. Both parties will have a caucus to-night and will arrange a program.

John F. Follett arrived with the democratic senators from Hamilton county. Ex-Gov. Noyes arrived at noon. It is said he will consult with the Republicans. The democrats are considering a plan to prevent a conflict by holding their session in some other room, but nothing is yet determined.

Governor Foraker is preparing a message to send to the republican senate in order to give it official recognition.

The democratic caucus has decided to enter the senate chamber promptly at 4 o'clock. The republicans are still in session and say they will adjourn if the democrats do not come in promptly.

3:30 p. m.—The senate chamber is jammed as the hour of 4 approaches. The clerk says he will stand by the majority under the rule. A conflict will be between him and the president of the senate.

A NEW YORK letter says: "Walking through Central Park last week with a friend, we met six or eight children walking and presided over by three teachers. 'Who do you suppose they are?' asked my friend. 'A little aristocratic private school,' I said. 'No,' he said, 'those infants are not all of an age, as they look. The oldest is 9. They are the children of ex-President Barrios, of Guatemala, who was slain in battle while trying the mad experiment of uniting the Central American republics against their will. His widow lives in that house yonder on the other side of Fifth avenue—the double house. Barrios, the dictator, was worth $30,000,000, they say, but some of it got away. She has only $8,000,000, poor thing. She is a splendid Spanish beauty—one of the handsomest women in New York.'"

A PIONEER DEAD.

Mr. Jeremiah Donavin, of Vincennes, Expires Suddenly --His Residence Here.

Jeremiah Donavin, the oldest citizen of Knox county, died at 8 o'clock last Friday morning, at the home of his son, Ralph, near the Highlands, three miles from Vincennes. He died rather unexpectedly, having been unusually bright for several hours before the summons. He was in his ninety-sixth or ninety-seventh year. His life was an active, as well as a long one. He went to Vincennes early in the present century and engaged in the tanning business with John Cleves Symmes Harrison, a son of President Harrison. He was for thirty years the marshal of the burrough of Vincennes, and afterwards of the city, serving with a valor and efficiency that distinguished him in the annals and traditions of the old post. Up to some five years ago Mr. Donavin was a resident of Fort Wayne, residing with his daughter, Mrs. Michael Hedekin. His sight grew dim from his extreme age and of late his son has kindly nursed him. Mrs. Hedekin and his grandchild, Mr. Ralph Donavin, are at Vincennes to attend the funeral.

KILLED IN A FIGHT.

Philip DeWan, a Fort Wayne Boy, Brained at Chicago.

Lieut. Frank Wilkinson to-day received information from Chicago, that Philip DeWan, of Fort Wayne, was killed in a fight there. DeWan and his companions were drinking in a saloon, so the story goes, and a quarrel arose, in the course of which the Fort Wayne boy was brained and is now a corpse to await the disposition of relatives. Philip DeWan was born and raised here. He was long a switchman in the Pittsburgh yards. His mother and sisters live on Chicago street and keep a boarding house. The sad end of the young fellow is to be regretted.

Resolutions of Condolence.

At a special meeting of the Wabash employes, a committee of five, with the chairman added, was appointed to draft suitable resolutions on the death of Mrs. J. B. Barnes, which are as follows:

WHEREAS, We, the employees of the Wabash shops, regard this an opportune moment in bearing testimony to the high character and never ending kindness to the poor, of the late Mr. J. B. Barnes, the beloved wife of our superior officer.

Resolved, That we tender to her grief stricken husband our sincere sympathy and condolence, and pray that our Heavenly Father may comfort him in this, the saddest trial of his life.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted by the secretary to the husband of the deceased and also a copy furnished to each of the daily papers of the city.

Gospel Meeting.

The Temperance revival, under the leadership of Messrs. Hughes and Ward, has been a source of much good to this city and especially the eight hundred or more who signed the pledge. No one can estimate the wide reaching influence of these temperance workers. It is necessary that our churches should follow up this vantage ground; hence, Rev. S. A. Northrop and his congregation have decided to go on with gospel meetings, beginning this evening at 7:30. Mason Long will speak and will be succeeded by a talk from the pastor. The large chorus choir will lead the singing. Temperance workers come! Pledge-signers welcome!

NOTICE TO TAX-PAYERS.

TREASURER'S OFFICE,
CITY OF FORT WAYNE, IND.

CITY HALL, FORT WAYNE, IND., JAN. 1, 1887.

Notice is hereby given to the tax-payers of the City of Fort Wayne that I have received the Tax Duplicate for 1886, and will attend at the Treasurer's office, as the law directs, for the purpose of receiving taxes now due.

The rates of Taxation in the City of Fort Wayne, Indiana, for 1886, are as follows, viz:
For general purposes, 50 cents.
For interest on bonded debts, 10 cents.
For interest on water works bonds, 10 cents.
For sinking funds, 5 cents.
For city hall fund, 10 cents.
Total per $100 valuation, $1.00.

Every male resident who is over 21 and not over 60 years of age, and is sane, and not a pauper, must pay a poll tax of $2.00. There is also charged to the person owning real estate the same $2.00 for each dog and $3.00 for each hitch.

SECTION 625. "Any person or tax-payer charged with taxes on the tax duplicate in the hands of any city treasurer, may pay the full amount of such taxes on or before the third Monday of April, or at his option pay the first installment on or before such third Monday, and the remaining installment on or before the first Monday in November following; provided that in all cases where the first instalment shall not be paid on or before the third Monday in April, the whole amount unpaid shall become due, and be returned delinquent, and collected as provided by law, and there shall be a penalty added of 10 per cent. upon the amount of any installment not paid when due, which the person or property assessed shall pay, together with cost of collection; and if such taxes remain delinquent at the succeeding first Monday in November, there shall be a penalty of 6 per centum added to all such taxes that become delinquent at the preceding April and on the first Monday in November, and a penalty of 10 per centum shall be added to the current delinquency occurring on the first Monday in November."

Examine your receipt before leaving the office, and see that all your property is described.

Sale of lands and lots for delinquent taxes second Monday in February, 1887.

Benson's Capsule Plasters are widely imitat-valuable. Benson's are highly and scientifically medicated, and cure in a few hours ailments upon which no others had any effect whatever. The public are therefore cautioned against plasters bearing the names of

IN Union County, Georgia, a short time ago, a negro preacher was telling his congregation of the awful consequences of whisky drinking. As he stepped from the pulpit a revenue officer, who had been quietly listening to the sermon, stepped up and arrested him for illicit distilling. Another negro preacher in the same county is under $300 bonds for the same offense.

It is said that Russian foresters cut trees just before the bark tightens in the spring too much for peeling. They strip the bark off, but leave the upper branches and their leaves untouched.
Through these leaves much of the sap in the body of the tree evaporates before they become dry, the trunk seasons rapidly, and makes timber much more valuable for any purpose than that cut in winter.

The Washington monument was begun in 1848 by an association incorporated by Congress and $20,000 raised by private subscriptions was expended, when work was suspended. After standing in that unfinished condition,
Congress, in 1876, appropriated $200, 000 for completing the work. It is seventy feet square at the base, and is to be 555 feet high when completed, which will make it by forty-four feet
the tallest structure in the world.

The Allegheny Fire Committee
wanted to go to New York to purchase an engine and otherwise amuse themselves, and asked the Pennsylvania Railroad for fifteen passes. The corporation responded with four passes, which aroused the indignation of the committee to such a virtuous height that they resolved to pay their fares on another line, and, whereas that the Pennsylvania corporation was too mean to live, and could go to Jericho with its old railroad.

est reduction was made. It should be borne in mind that the fiscal year herewith are taken on that day; also, that the table gives the debt less cash

ELLA WHEELER's marriage had its romance behind it. When the Army of the Cumberland held its reunion in Milwaukee, Mr. Robert M. Wilcox, a young manufacturer from Connecticut, was present. He had read Miss Wheeler's poetry and wished to see her. It happened that she contributed a poem to the occasion and was pointed out to Mr. Wilcox. On his return home he wrote to her, and though she had never met him, she liked his letter and replied. A pleasant correspondence followed, and soon a meeting was brought about. It proved a case of mutual love at first sight.

CONGRESSMAN WISE'S RE- BUKE.

Congressman Bontelle, of Maine, made much ado about the dismissal of union soldiers from the Norfolk, Va., navy yard, and about defacing certain union inscriptions. Congressman Wise, of Virginia, denied the accusations of Bontelle and scathingly exposed the false love of the republicans for union soldiers. Mr. Wise told how Confederate Guerrilla Mosby had been sent abroad under Gen. Grant's administration; he told how Gen. Longstreet had been placed in the best position in Georgia by the republicans; he quoted from Charles Sumner and General Grant to show that the time for peace had come; he pointed to his own vote always recorded to pension the union soldiers; he told how union soldiers had been removed under republican sanction by Confederates Mahone and Brady, of Virginia, and how these reformed rebels, like Mosby and Longstreet, had taxed union soldiers for money to run their campaign, and closing, Mr. Wise said: "When they were required under the whip of Master Mahone, to give their money for partisan purposes; required like slaves to hold their ballots up, that the boss minions might see whether they were voting right or not! Oh, God! what an attitude in which to place an honorably discharged soldier of the union—under the whip and lash of a confederate brigadier."

Every soldier should read Mr. Wise's speech. There is not a word in it that he cannot approve, for he pointed to the fact that union soldiers were thrust aside for every ex-rebel who would sell himself to the republican bosses for revenue only.

The Railroad Review, an organ of the railroads, claims that the employes are not overworked. It seems that all the employes have to complain of is working twelve to fourteen hours a day, with an occasional spurt of sixteen hours or more. How many hours do the railroads expect a man to work?
What do they call "a good day's work?"
The work is the most incessant that exists, and the lives of thousands depend on its being done by wide-awake, clear-headed men, and not by employes tired out and sleepy. This reminds us of the darky who worked twenty-five hours a day because, he said, he got up an hour before it was day. Perhaps the railroads would like their men to get up an hour before day, and then work the other twenty-four. This is about the idea a soulless corporation has of a "good day's work."

It is said that Mr. Giltay, of Delit, has discovered that a gloved hand will act as a receiver when it is put in telephonic circuit. He used an Alder microphone, the primary of an induction coil being connected with it and to three Bunsen cells. The secondary of the coil was in circuit with a nine-cell Leclanche battery and the line, the ends of the wire being held in the naked hands of persons standing in a room some distance away. On whistling or singing near the microphone the sounds were distinctly heard by one of the persons holding the wire line, while the other pressed a gloved hand firmly against his ear. In the case of speech the sounds were too feeble to enable more than a few words to be understood.

A RECENT statement in the "Archives de Medicine Militaire" shows with much force the influence upon small-pox of systematic revaccination. Previous to the year 1834 the disease in the Prussian army had been about one hundred annually. In 1834 the order for revaccination was made very stringent, and the figures soon fell to five, nine, and three. From 1847 the number was between two and three, and since 1874 there has not been a single death from small-pox in the army.

As the season advances, the pains and aches by which rheumatism makes itself known, are experienced after every ex-posure. It is not claimed that Hoods Sarsaparilla is a specific for rheumatism—we doubt if there is, or can be, such a remedy. But the thousands benefited by Hoods Sarsaparilla, warrant us in urging others who suffer from rheumatism to take it before the first keen twinges.

EPITHELIOMA! OR SKIN CANCER.

For seven years I suffered with a cancer on my face. All the simple remedies were applied to alleviate the pain, but the place continued to grow, finally extending into my nose, from which came a yellowish discharge very offensive in character. It was also inflamed, and annoyed me greatly. About eight months ago I was in Atlanta, at the house of a friend, who strongly recommended the use of Swift's Specific. I determined to make an effort to procure it. In this I was successful, and began its use. The influence of the medicine at first was to somewhat aggravate the sore; but soon the inflammation was allayed, and I began to improve after the first few bottles. My general health has greatly improved. I am stronger, and able to do any kind of work. The cancer on my face began to decrease and the ulcer to heal, until there is not a vestige of it left—only a little scar marks the place where it has been. I am ready to answer all questions relative to this cure.

Mrs. JOICIE A. McDONALD,
Atlanta, Ga., August 11, 1885.

I have had a cancer on my face for some years, extending from one cheek bone across the nose to the other. It has given me great deal of pain, at times burning and itching to such an extent that I was unable to sleep. I commenced using Swift's Specific in May, 1885, and have used eight bottles. It has given me the greatest relief by removing the inflammation and restoring my general health.

W. BARRES,
Knoxville, Iowa, Sept. 8, 1885.

For many years I was a sufferer with cancer of the nose, and having been cured by the use of S. S. S., I feel constrained by a sense of duty to suffering humanity to make this statement of my case. With the 14th bottle the cancer began to heal rapidly and soon disappeared, and for several months there has been no appearance of a sore of any kind on my nose or face, neither is my nose at all tender to the touch. I have taken about two dozen bottles S. S. S., and am decidedly cured, and I know that S. S. S. effected the cure after every known remedy was tried and had failed.

ROBERT SMEDLEY,
Fort Gaines, Ga., May 1, 1885.

I had heard of the wonderful cures of Swift's Specific, and resolved to try it. I commenced taking it in April, 1884. My general health was much improved, yet the cancer which was in my breast continued to grow slowly but surely. The tumor grew and became quite heavy. I felt that I must either have it cut out, or commence using Swift's Specific. I commenced using it, and to my surprise the tumor began to shrink, and in a few days it was almost entirely gone. It continued healing around the edges until February, when it was entirely healed up and well.

HELVY WOOD,
Cohasset, Plymouth co., Mass., July 13, 1885.

Swift's Specific has cured me of a cancer of the breast, and I feel constrained to give it to the public as a cure for cancer. I have used it for several months, and it has cured me of a cancer of the breast, and I feel constrained to give it to the public as a cure for cancer. I have used it for several months, and it has cured me of a cancer of the breast, and I feel constrained to give it to the public as a cure for cancer.

SEASONABLE STYLES

A Few of the New Designs for Skirts and Skirt Arrangements.

A CHARMING BALL COSTUME.

The High Hat Must Go—The Fashions in Hosiery and Gloves—Party Dresses,
Etc., Etc.,

Plaited skirts, says the Chicago Times, retain their hold on public favor in a most remarkable way, wide box plaits taking the lead. There are some very pretty plaited arrangements worthy of note, and it may be of interest to know that none of the skirts are plaited entirely round. A very graceful and effective way to make a skirt front is in two single but deep box plaits with a narrow space between, widening slightly toward the foot of the skirt. The plaits are taken straight from belt to hem, and between them flat silk cord is laced, finished at the bottom with tassels or spikes. The cords are attached to the inner edge of the plaits by means of narrow tapes with eyelets worked at certain distance. These tapes are lightly tacked to the plaits down the full length, but give a firm foundation for the cords and also conceal the manner of fastening. If the dress is a combination suit, the space between the plaits should be of one material and the plaits themselves of another. This same arrangement may be carried out with almost equally good effect on the side of the skirt, although, as a matter of course, the plaits must be narrow. With the irregular draperies so much in vogue, some kind of a plaited panel is often seen on one side of a skirt, and while it is sometimes of perfectly plain side plaits it is more frequently ornamented in one way or another. For instance, a row of large buttons extends down one side of it with simulated buttonholes, or the plaits, instead of running all one way, may turn from either side toward the center, and the two middle ones be fastened half way down with a series of clasps or a lacing of cord. A single unplaited panel is also used at one side of a skirt, but it should be of heavy material, generally velvet, plain, striped, or brocaded, and the varieties of velvet now fashionable are nearly without limit. The very full double skirts that were first seen last summer, and for which a great popularity was predicted, have not as yet received any great degree of favor, and it is to be hoped that in their original intrinsic simplicity they will remain indefinitely in the back-ground. Full and wholly undraped skirts are suitable only for very young ladies, and even then there are very few figures to which they are becoming. Straight, regular fullness of outline in skirts conceals grace rather than enhances it, and at the same time displays awkwardness rather than hides it. Irregular and oblique lines are infinitely more becoming and are easy of attainment even with full skirts, as a single draping at either side relieves the unbecoming monotony. Hence it is that so few doubled undraped skirts are seen, but in a modified form double skirts have met with much favor, particularly for indoor toilets. The front breadth of the underskirt should be slightly gored and the sides and back wholly straight. If it is of very heavy material it is usually made wholly without trimming, but if of lighter stuff a group of tucks in several rows of velvet or satin ribbon, put in straight, or a very narrow plaiting may be placed on the under edge of the skirt. If the underskirt is trimmed in any way the second skirt is plaid, and vice versa. If the costume is of velvet and soft wool stuff, a very graceful effect is given by making the petticoat of velvet wholly plain and the second skirt with a deep hem and a bias band of velvet above it. This second skirt is always made perfectly straight and fuller than the underskirt, and usually two inches shorter. A pretty arrangement is to place most of the fullness in the back, say two-thirds, with the remainder distributed evenly across the front and right side, giving the left side just enough fullness to prevent its drawing. Then in the center of this plain space draw the skirt up very high, bringing the foot as nearly as possible to the waist line without giving a bunched appearance. This arrangement will give a long sloping sweep across the entire front of the skirt, while in the back, when the skirt is fuller, the slope will be more abrupt, and the uniting of the vertical and horizontal folds form a succession of pretty half puffs or cascades. In other arrangements the skirt is more slightly draped, and a single fold well placed gives a graceful effect.

Dressing for the Ball.

A charming ball toilet for a young lady is of the very fashionable rose color, and is made of plain surah silk and gauze of the same color. The simple gored skirt of silk is finished with a foot-plaiting of the same and a deep puff of a rose-colored gauze falls straight from the waist to the foot of the skirt, excepting in the back, where it is arranged in high puffs with sash ends. The pointed, low-cut bodice is of the surah laced down the back. Across the shoulders soft folds of the gauze are taken, and from the top of the left shoulder with the folds of the gauze a rose-colored sash is taken diagonally to the foot of the bodice at the right side, where it is knotted with a bunch of fine white flowers. The very long remaining end of the sash—which is simply a satin ribbon four inches wide—is then taken half way down the skirt, where it catches up the folds of gauze and is again knotted with a bunch of white flowers. This looping is again repeated near the foot of the skirt, drawing the deep gauze puff into two smaller ones on the right side of the skirt. A band of rose-colored velvet ribbon is tied about the throat, and long gloves of creamy kid are drawn well up over the bare arms. A small bunch of the white flowers is worn in the hair, and the rose-colored gauze fan over ivory sticks, completes the very lovely and simple effect of the suit. Pale-blue with dark-red is always a pretty and usually a becoming evening combination, but it is one that has been rather neglected of late; possibly from the fact that it was so much over-used several seasons ago. But a new and very pretty costume showing it to advantage is of pale-blue gauze splashed with large silk rings of the same color. This gauze is combined with dark-red velvet. The skirt is of the diaphanous stuff laid in box-plaits at the waist line and bordered across the foot with two bias bands of the dark velvet. Short apron drapery, also of the gauze, is taken across the front and sides of the skirt, while in the back there are long puffs of the same headed by a wide bow of the velvet. The bodice is made entirely of the velvet cut off round about the lower edge, two inches below the waist line, and laced down the front with pale-blue cord. The velvet bow forming part of the back drapery is taken over the foot of the bodice. The neck is cut out round and low, and there are no sleeves. The lace finishing the neck and arm-holes is put on the under edge of the bodice and drawn up close and flat with a narrow ribbon run through the outer edge. A dog-collar made of gold coins encircles the throat, and a raised aigrette of gold grasses is worn high in the hair.

Fashions in Hosiery and Gloves.

The Suede gloves in tan, are the most fashionable for day or evening wear. With full dress, golden and cream and grays are also worn, but tans are apparently the favorite. Very few white gloves are sold at present, say one pair to every twenty of popular tints. It is not many years since white gloves at weddings were imperative. At present they are not stylish. Walking gloves vary in length from four to eight buttons. The mousquetaire, in six or eight button lengths are the most fashionable. For full dress occasions gloves from fourteen to thirty button lengths are suitable. The latter reach to the shoulder. The silk hosiery shown is extremely handsome. The colors most in vogue are gold, bronze, ecrue, deep cardinal, beige, ashes of roses, and browns from a light shade to a dark seal. In blues there are navy and electric blue. Stone-colored silk hosiery is also desirable. The ornamentation is clocking and Brode some, an effect in color like scattered seeds over the front of the stocking. Bronze colored hosiery is worn with bronze shippers in full evening dress.—Town Topics.

Party Dresses.

Effective party dresses for young ladies are made entirely of plain tulle in several shades of the same color. If in pink, the first skirt would be of deep pink, the second a little lighter, the third still lighter, while the outer skirt would be the delicate tint of a blush rose. The bodice would be of blush rose plush, with the shaded effects peculiar to this fabric. Shaded ostrich feathers are used for trimming these dresses. A cluster fastens the drapery on the left side, another is placed on the left shoulder of the bodice, and the third, with an aigrette, is worn in the hair.

The High Hat Will Go.

The very high hat will hardly survive the season. As a novelty it has already been superseded by a peculiar new casque, or helmet shaped hat, which has the advantage of not shutting out so much of the sunlight from those who are behind. The grenadier hat could never have obtained even the limited vogue it has done but for the desire of little women to make themselves taller, and to size upon any means to create an illusion to this effect in the minds of others.

Fashion Notes.

Gray and garnet is a favorite Parisian combination. Even some of the long cloaks have cushions under the plaits in the back to form the tournure.

Flowers for evening wear, for young ladies, are arranged in clusters of four, held by a bow of ribbon.

Young ladies' evening dresses are very simple, and natural flowers are the most fashionable garniture.

WANTED AN EDITOR WHO "WRITES."

A young lady was introduced to a gentleman at a party. "They tell me that you are a newspaper man."

"I am." He was going to say that he had the honor, but he thought it an inopportune occasion for just pride.

"And you are one of the editors?"

"I am. I am the telegraph editor."

"Do you write?"

"Oh, no."

"Will you some day introduce me to an editor who writes? I know several newspaper editors, but none of them write. I wonder who does the writing."

"I have been selling considerable Athlaphoros this fall and winter. I find that it gives good satisfaction and in one or two cases has done wonders," is the experience with this great remedy for rheumatism of Druggist J. H. Hammond, Eldora, Iowa.

Beware of Scrofula

Scrofula is probably more general than any other disease. It is insidious in character, and manifests itself in runnings, sores, pustular eruptions, boils, swellings, enlarged joints, abscesses, sore eyes, etc. Hood's Sarsaparilla expels all trace of scrofula from the blood, leaving it pure, enriched, and healthy.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. Took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

C. A. Arnold, Arnold, Mo., had scrofulous sores for seven years, spring and fall. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured him.

Salt Rheum

William Spies, Elyria, O., suffered greatly from erysipelas and salt rheum, caused by handling tobacco. At times his hands would crack open and bleed. He tried various preparations without aid; finally took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and now says: "I am entirely well."

"My son had salt rheum on his hands and on the calves of his legs. He took Hood's Sarsaparilla and is entirely cured." J. B. STANTON, Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

THE CITY.

As the days grow longer the gas bills grow shorter.

The month is galloping to an end. Whoa, January.

J. N. Lamb, of Fort Wayne, was at South Bend yesterday.

The Catholic Knights of St. John will elect officers next Sunday.

General Master Mechanic Barnes left for Springfield, Ill., yesterday.

L. B. Johns, the carriage manufacturer, went to St. Louis last night.

Lew Clark, of Toledo, is in the city viewing the scenes of former conquests.

Skaters were on the river yesterday and every pond was covered with boys and girls.

Mr. J. R. Carey, attorney for the Pittsburgh company, was at Warsaw on legal business Saturday.

Mr. J. K. Emmet, Mrs. J. K. Emmet, and J. K. Emmet, jr., are guests of the Aveline house.

Carpenters, bricklayers and laborers look for an unusually busy season this year in the building line.

Mr. Christ Walke and Miss Elizabeth Walda were married last evening at the home of William Walda, by Rev. Sauer.

Mrs. Anna Jergens, who was suspected of being implicated in the clothes thefts, has been discharged from custody as innocent.

Twenty-five cents to Japan, including supper. F. P. Randall's residence next Wednesday and Thursday evenings, January 27 and 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Shisler, of Middlebury, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Schane, of Abate town-ship, this county.

Mrs. Judge Robert Lowry and daughter, Miss Lida, left Saturday evening for Washington, D. C., to remain during the session of congress.

The "Shadows of a Great City" will be presented in Fort Wayne February 10 and 11, with the same cast and scenic effects as in New York City.

Invitations are out for a birthday party to be given by Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Seavey, to-morrow evening. Progressive eucure will be the feature of the occasion.

The Muncie polo club will play the Princess team here next Wednesday and Thursday. The contests will be for blood, as considerable rivalry exists between the two clubs.

Mrs. Frank Keefer, wife of Conductor Keefer, of the Wabash road, has received $2,000, the amount of insurance held by her husband in the Brotherhood, of which he was a member.

Mrs. Hanna Nirdlinger is now in possession of the cigar and tobacco stock of Harry Rubin. The stock was transferred to her on a suit for $4,000, instituted for her by Mr. W. P. Breen.

The Princess polo team again defeated the Huntington boys Saturday night. The Princess team shortly go to Delphos and the champion Mansfield club is booked here for two games of polo.

Deputy Prosecutor Bittinger has issued warrants for the arrest of the two unknown men who assaulted and robbed Mrs. Servia Bair, the petite German woman, who lives at 283 East Jefferson street.

Brady & Garwood will follow up this week's engagement with Mestayer's "Tourists in a Pullman Palace Car," at the Academy. This is one of the funniest things on the road, and draws like a porous plaster.

Joe Emmet will sing his famous songs, "Lullaby," "Cuckoo," "Mountain Guide," "Castle Bells (with chiming)," "Come Kiss Me, Darling," "I Was a Swell," "Love of the Shamrock," and others at the Temple to-night.

Sneak thieves got into the residence of Dink Trentman, on Clinton street, last night. Mrs. Trentman and the maid, who were up stairs, heard the intruders and alarmed the household. The thieves fled without securing any booty.

"Joseph Stults was at Fort Wayne Friday, and visited the medical college while there. Uncle Joe will not, however, begin the practice of medicine—not, at least, just at the present time, though he was well pleased with his visit," says the Huntington Herald.

About 26,000 tons of freight were last week shipped eastward from Chicago, the increase being 2,470 tons. Of this traffic 36.6 per cent. went over the Vanderbilt tracks and 30.5 on the Pennsylvania roads. The Pittsburg road carried 4,694 tons, the largest shipment, and the Nickel Plate carried 2,163 tons.

Scalpers' rate sheets at St. Paul quote Washington and Baltimore rates over the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago and the Pennsylvania at $16 and $13 for first and second class business, respectively. If this report is true it is a cut of $1 made by the brokers, which is equally as demoralizing as if made at the regular office.

H. C. Boughton, train master of the Wabash at Peru, is in the city.

Mr. A. W. Machen, of Toledo, was the guest of Mr. Rob DeWald yesterday.

Mr. W. P. Breen filed the suit for Mrs. Hannah Nirdlinger against Louis Bourie.

Barney McCauly will not appear here as booked. He is drinking again and his company is disbanded.

Engineer Jeff White, of the Grand Rapids road, and whose wife died a week ago, is now seriously ill.

The circuit court will not be in session this week. Judge O'Rourke will convene that tribunal one week from to-day.

The livery stables did a land office business yesterday as everybody, who could boast of one, had his best and sweetest girl out.

Mason Long offered $2,400 a year for the Temple. This was all the association asked, but afterwards they disagreed on the terms of the lease.

Adolph Lewyn has sued L. M. Jacobs and Louis Heilbroner for $1,000. Morris & Barrett and C. H. Aldrich are attorneys for the plaintiff.

The Wabash company is cutting ice at Toledo for shipment along the line from there to St. Louis. They put up forty one car loads Saturday.

Judge Hench gave these judgments this morning: Henry Kloska vs. John Rohrbach, for $1,067; Edward Sidel vs. Wm. S. Thompson, for $500.

The cottage meeting of the R. R. Y. M. C. A. will be held at the residence of D. F. More, 32 Brackenridge street, on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, standard time.

"I want the music of the 'Mikado,'" said a little boy entering a music store. "For singing or the piano?" "I don't want it for either. I want it for my sister."

A Pittsburg freight train broke in two parts, just west of Coesse, this morning and in coming together three cars were derailed. Trains were stopped two hours.

The indications for the lower lake region, as reported by the weather bureau at Washington to THE SENTINEL, are as follows: Local rains and snows, warmer weather.

Harry Rubin is into some controversy regarding the failure of his house, and yesterday was searching for Max Rubin with a pistol in his hands. The officers and friends quieted him.

In the case of David Jacobs, who was convicted of manslaughter in the Steuben court, the motion for a new trial was overruled and a sentence of twenty-one years was passed against him.

Gospel meetings at the Second Presbyterian church, West Berry street, every afternoon and evening during this week, beginning this evening, conducted by Rev. H. M. Paynter, of Chicago.

Rev. T. J. Bacher is at Muncie attending the funeral of his friend, Mrs. Chapman. The special services at Grace Reformed church have been postponed. They will now begin next Sunday evening.

Since 1872, of the freights carried over the Wabash road, 46 per cent. has been through business, 54 per cent. local traffic, while the Bee-line has carried 58 per cent. through business, 42 per cent. local traffic.

In the year 1885 there were loaded and unloaded at the Wabash freight depot at Indianapolis 9,075 cars of the Wabash company and 2,475 cars of the L. N. A. & C., or a total of 8,551 cars. The depot consists of a foreman, two check-men and six platform men.

County Treasurer Delman has so far redeemed $175,000 county orders. They will all be redeemed this week as they now come in in remnants. $169,000 county orders were redeemed Saturday. They were held by the banks and Judge Cheney.

The White victor net lock, owned by Hon. R. C. Bell, Supt. W. W. Worthington and Luther N. White, may be made in the Muncie shops. The articles of association, drafted Saturday with a capital stock of $100,000, have been forwarded to the secretary of state for record.

Miss Annie McCormick, of this city, now visiting friends at Titusville, Pa., recently won a pair of silver mounted club skates in a contest against seventeen other ladies of that city. Miss McCormick is one of the most graceful skaters that has ever glided upon our local floors, and her many friends in this city will be gratified to learn of her recent success.

On Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week the famous polo team, of Muncie, said to be one of the best in the west, will tackle the Princess club at the Princess rink. On a recent visit to Muncie of the Fort Waynes, during which two games were played, the result was a tie. These will be exciting games and those interested in this kind of sport should not fail to attend.

McKNIGHT'S RECEPTION.

A Vast Assembly of Fort Wayne's Intellectual and Refined Youthful Society.

It was a charming spectacle, the assembled host of Fort Wayne's most genteel classes of youthful society, at the Masonic Temple, Saturday afternoon. They had gathered there to hear Arthur C. McKnight talk about oratory and vocal training, and a very instructive and interesting lecture he gave them. The value of a good voice in the everyday walks of life was clearly shown, and the neglected voice was a thoroughly proven stumbling-block to many otherwise capable persons. Gymnastic vocal culture develops and strengthens the voice, just as gymnastic exercise develops and strengthens every part of the body. An insignificant voice makes its possessor appear insignificant, be he ever so bright and talented. The voice is made in childhood, and is far more frequently impaired or ruined than properly developed. High tones are dangerous; forced tones are protesting; and throat formed tones are ruinous to the voice. Children should be taught to use the tongue, lips, and teeth correctly, and to make natural chest and head tones. In connection with his regular work, Prof. McKnight will devote about forty minutes daily for the next ten weeks to the instruction of Fort Wayne's school-going youth, the first lesson being given at 4:30 p. m. to-day at Masonic Temple. The chance is one of a life time, as these lessons are free. Mr. McKnight will rely wholly upon meeting the heavy expense attending these long course of free instruction from the rendition of a chaste and beautiful fairy opera, "The Mission of Justice and Mercy" or "The Naid Queen," which was written expressly for him as an incentive to a vocal practice for the strengthening of his notice, and which will be rendered by several hundred members of his classes at the close of the session, probably sometime in April.

Opening of the Academy.

Messrs. Brady & Garwood open the Academy as a popular play house to-night, the Starr-Harris Opera company presenting the "Mascotte." The company was at Toledo last week and the Bee says: "The engagement of the Starr-Harris Opera company at the People's theater this week has been a phenomenal success. There has been nothing like it in the history of Toledo amusements this season. The house has been packed to the door at each performance, and the matinees have been attended by the best ladies of the city. The company richly deserve its success. They have given us a succession of light operas, including "The Mascotte," "The Mikado," "Chimes of Normandy," and "Olivette," in a most charming style. The company have no remarkable voices among them, but all are fair singers and good actors. Messrs. Brady & Garwood have reaped a well-deserved harvest."

Real Estate Transfers.

Olds Bros., real estate agents, room No. 8, Foster block, report the following recorded real estate transfers:

Mary A. Huguenard to Chas. A. Huguenard, by quit claim deed, 10 acres in section 24, Jefferson township, for $460.

William Emenheiser to Joseph Emenheiser, by warranty deed, 60 acres in section 7, Jackson township, for $1,500.

Christian Scherer to Julius H. Remile, by warranty deed, lot 2, McGovern's addition to Monroeville, for $500.

Hon. Frank A. C. McManus, of St. Louis, formerly of this city, in which he was known as one of our most brilliant young lawyers, is very cleverly represented in the Mikado cartoon of the St. Louis four courts, in Whip, a paper published in St. Louis, after the style of Puck. Frank is prominently shown in a powerful chorus; indeed, the entire cast exhibits in flaring colors the great legal luminaries whose forensic eloquence has so often echoed through the dingy old walls of St. Louis' temple of justice.

Collins and Smith, two boys were fined by the mayor this morning for creating a disturbance in John Kerns' saloon. The father of young Collins had Kerns arrested for selling liquor to his minor son, and the business cost the liquor man $20 and costs.

THEY REPLY.

The Nickel Plate Railroad Company Files an Answer to the Equipment Company.

Hon. R. C. Bell, who is western counsel for the Nickel Plate Railroad company, tells us that two more important papers in the Nickel Plate foreclosure suit were filed at Cleveland Saturday, being the answers of that company and of the Union Trust company, of New York, to the cross petition of George J. McGourkey and Samuel Shellar, filed in behalf of the Equipment company, and claiming the rolling stock equipments of the road to the value of $40,000,000. The Nickel Plate company claims in its answer that the purchase price of the equipment was $5,409,762; that about $2,000,000 had been paid before the agreement under which the cross petitioner claims his right of action was made; that the Nickel Plate company never had control of the trust fund deposited with the Metropolitan National bank, of New York, nor any certificates of deposit; that $570,237 had been deposited there prior to January 1, 1885, which was invested in worthless securities, and that the bank became insolvent, and that the cross petitioner had not kept the terms of the contract. The court is asked to require of the equipment company a full account of expenditures for equipments and pay the trust fund into court. The Union Trust company asks that the equipment be used to pay the debts of the company.

JUST AS BAD AS PAINTED.

Widespread Commotion Caused by the Terrible Confession of a Physician.

The story published in these columns recently, from the Rochester, N. Y., Democrat and Chronicle, created a deal of comment here as it has elsewhere. Apparently it caused even more commotion in Rochester, as the following from the same paper shows:

Dr. J. B. Henion, who is well-known not only in Rochester, but in nearly every part of America, sent an extended article to this paper a few days ago which was duly published, detailing his remarkable experience and rescue from what seemed to be certain death. It would be impossible to enumerate the personal inquiries which have been made at our office as to the validity of the article, but they have been so numerous that further investigation of the subject was deemed necessary.

With this end in view a representative of this paper called on Dr. Henion at his residence on Andrews street, when the following interview occurred: "That article of yours, Doctor, has created quite a whirlwind. Are the statements about the terrible condition you were in, and the way you were rescued, such as you can sustain?"

"Every one of them and many additional ones. I was brought so low by neglecting the first and most simple symptoms. I did not think I was sick. It is true I had frequent headaches; felt tired most of the time; could eat nothing one day and was ravenous the next; felt dull pains and my stomach was out of order, but I did not think it meant anything serious. The medical profession has been treating symptoms instead of diseases for years, and it is high time it ceased. The symptoms I have just mentioned, or any unusual action or irritation of the water channels indicate the approach of kidney disease more than a cough announces the coming of consumption. We do not treat the cough but try to help the lungs. We should not waste our time trying to relieve the headaches, pains about the body or other symptoms, but go directly to the kidneys, the source of most of these ailments."

"Precisely. Thousands of diseases are torturing people to-day which in reality are Bright's disease in some of its many forms. It is a hydra-headed monster, and the slightest symptoms should strike terror to every one who has them. I can look back and recall hundreds of deaths which physicians declared at the time were caused by paralysis, apoplexy, heart disease, pneumonia, malarial fever and other common complaints, which I see now were caused by Bright's disease."

"And did all these cases have simple symptoms at first?"

"Every one of them, and might have been cured as I was by the timely use of the same remedy. I am getting my eyes thoroughly opened in this matter and think I am helping others to see the facts and their possible danger also."

Mr. Warner, who was visited at his establishment on North St. Paul street, spoke very earnestly:

"It is true that Bright's disease had increased wonderfully, and we find, by reliable statistics that from '70 to '80, its growth was over 250 per cent. Look at the prominent men it has carried off, and is taking off every year, for while many are dying apparently of paralysis and apoplexy, they are really victims of kidney disorder, which causes heart disease, paralysis, apoplexy, etc. Nearly every week the papers record the death of some prominent man from this scourge. Recently, however, the increase has been checked and I attribute this to the general use of my remedy."

"Do you think many people are afflicted with it to-day who do not realize it?"

"A prominent professor in a New Orleans medical college was lecturing before his class on the subject of Bright's disease. He had various fluids under microscopic analysis and was showing the students what the indications of this terrible malady were. 'And now, gentlemen,' he said, 'as we have seen the unwholesome indications I will show you how it appears in a state of perfect health,' and he submitted his own fluid to the usual test. As he watched the result his countenance suddenly changed—his color and command suddenly left him and in a trembling voice he said: 'Gentlemen, I have made a painful discovery; I have Bright's disease of the kidneys.' And in less than a year he was dead. The slightest indication of any kidney difficulty is enough to strike terror to any one."

"You know of Dr. Henion's case?"

"Yes I have both read and heard of it. 'It is very wonderful, is it not?'"

"No more so than a great many others that have come to my notice as having been cured by the same means."

"You believe then that Bright's disease can be cured?"

"I know it can. I know it from my own and the experience of thousands of prominent persons who were given up to die by both their physicians and friends."

"You speak of your own experience; what was it?"

"A fearful one. I had felt languid and unfitted for business for years. But I did not know what ailed me. When, however, I found it was kidney difficulty I thought there was little hope and so did the doctors. I have since learned that one of the physicians, of this city pointed me out to a gentleman on the street one day, saying: 'There goes a man who will be dead within a year.' I believe his words would have proved true if I had not providentially used the remedy now known as Warner's Safe Cure."

"Did you make a chemical analysis of the case of Mr. H. H. Warner some three years ago, Doctor?"

"Yes, sir."

"What did this analysis show you?"

"A serious disease of the kidneys."

"Did you think Mr. Warner could recover?"

"No, sir. I did not think it possible."

"Do you know anything about the remedy which cured him?"

"I have chemically analyzed it and find it pure and harmless."

Dr. Henion was cured five years ago and is well and attending to his professional duties to-day, in this city. The standing of Dr. Henion, Mr. Warner and Dr. Lattimore in the community is beyond question, and the statements they make cannot for a moment be doubted. Dr. Henion's experiences show that Bright's disease of the kidneys is one of the most deceptive and dangerous of all diseases, that it is exceedingly common, but that it can be cured if taken in time.

EMERSON.

Perhaps the most valuable and lasting of Emerson's characteristics is his intense suggestiveness, says a writer in the Gentleman's Magazine. He strides across the field of our mind scattering the seeds of thought to right and to left.

"The greatest poet," says Sainte-Beuve, "is not he who has done the best; it is he who suggests the most; he not all of whose meaning is at first obvious, and who leaves you much to desire, to explain, to study, much to complete in your turn."

Judged by this standard Emerson's influence upon his own generation and upon generations to come will be second to none. The late George Dawson once remarked to a relative of the writer that he could never sufficiently acknowledge his indebtedness to Emerson's suggestiveness.

"If any one can be said to have given the impulse to my mind," said Prof. Trindall, "it is Emerson."

"Whatever I have done the world owes to him," and he tells us how through three long, dreary German winters he must needs get up at 5 in the morning to read his works. Carlyle writes that in Emerson's poems he finds "some tone of the eternal melodies sounding, afar off, ever and anon, in my ear."

What affects me like the light of the stars," Mr. Matthew Arnold, the critic of the day, even in this age of critics, considers Emerson's "Essays" the most important prose production of the whole century, and we do not think future ages will reverse his verdict.

Although a religious and moral teacher of the loftiest and purest stamp, Emerson is no theologian. He is essentially the prophet of intellectual and moral greatness, and devotes all his energies thereto. "It is very certain," he writes, "that we ought not to be and shall not be contented with any goal we have reached. Our aim is no less than greatness; that which invites belongs to us all—to which we are all sometimes untrue, cowardly, faithless, but of which we never quite despair, and which in every sane moment we resolve to make our own."

"100 does one dollar" is true only of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it is an unanswerable argument as to strength and economy.

In the Dear Old Days.

We differ in creed and politics, but we are a unit all the same on the desirableness of a fine head of hair. If you mourn the loss of this blessing and ornament, a bottle or two of Parker's Hair Balsam will make you look as you did in the dear old days. It is worth trying. It is the only standard 50c article for the hair.

Ex-Gov. Porter will deliver a lecture on "Hamilton and Jefferson" before the Southern Indiana Teachers' Association, which meets at Vincennes, March 24, 25 and 26.

A young lad named Doty employed at Hook Bros.' tub factory at Portland had his head crushed in by a revolving pulley bursting and striking him in the forehead. He will die.

S. R. Bryant, a leading business man of Valparaiso, and a prominent Mason, died in that city last week of consumption, at the age of 64. He was well known in this city.

Pat Rooney and the "Bandit King," company were booked for the same date, Saturday night, at Logansport. They played jointly and divided the receipts, thereby settling a bad controversy.

Indiana has 703 newspapers and periodicals, 76 daily, 3 tri-weekly, 20 semi-weekly, 469 weekly, 1 bi-weekly, 11 semi-monthly, 68 monthly, 52 Sunday, 9 bi-monthly and 4 quarterly publications.

A great temperance revival is in progress at a little town called Coal Bluff, near Brazil. Out of a mining population of 200, 142 have signed the pledge, a number of the signers being saloon keepers.

Mr. G. W. Cobb, of Indianapolis, who is supported largely by the railroad companies in his evangelical work among railroad employees, is at Connersville conducting revival services at the Presbyterian Church.

Attorney General Ford, who in sight-seeing abroad, says, in a private letter, that while he was at the railway station in Berlin he observed only two things that were American. One was a bottle labeled "Old Kentucky Whiskey" and the other a picture of Cleveland and Hendricks.

George Ford and John B. Stoll, of South Bend; Judge Osborn, A. F. Milken, Lepore; W. S. Marshall, Warsaw; C. G. Conn, Elkhart; Dan McDonald, Plymouth, and J. H. Winterbottom, Michigan City, are being mentioned by the democratic papers of the district in connection with the next congressional nomination.

Ice packers at Wabash and Warsaw have during the past week packed about ten thousand tons, but the recent rains have destroyed the entire crop, and dealers now predict that not another pound will be housed this season. Indiana's ice supply will next summer come from Michigan and Wisconsin. The ice packed there was nine inches in thickness, and of excellent quality.

Gilbert Yost, the fourteen-year-burglar, doing time in the northern prison, will, we dare say, regret to learn that two of his old New York pals, Burglars Johnny Porter and "Sheeney" Mike, are under arrest at Troy, N. Y., for a $12,000 diamond robbery committed three years ago. These two criminals were hand-in-hand with Yost during the latter's balmy days as a crook.

The Waterloo Fair association has designated Wednesday as school day, on which all pupils who were enrolled in any of the public schools of the county at any time during the school year of 1885-86 and were in attendance not less than twenty days, all teachers who taught in any of the public schools of the county at any time during said year, and all school trustees and ex-school trustees, who served as trustees at any time during the year shall be admitted into the fair grounds free of charge; and offer as premiums for school work, twenty five dollars.

I am going to tell you a capital tale, To be free from all pain and hearty and hale, St. Jacobs Oil use, it never will fail.

A "CORN-SHUCKING."

Away Down in Georgia to Old Plantation Days.

I suppose our Yankee friends would call it a "shucking-bee," as they are wont to call other such gatherings "parting bees," "quitting bees," etc. But we call it a corn-shucking. You must imagine that it is early autumn. The foliage of the distant woodlands has taken on all the variegated colors of the rainbow. There are gum trees and maples whose tops are one sheet of flame, oaks and towering hickories crowded with a mass of orange and golden colored leaves. The persimmon trees are loaded with their luscious fruit, and the late summer grapes hang in rich purple clusters along the fence rows, next to the swamp. The pines alone are not affected by the change of season. They rise, gaunt and grim, their sombre foliage taking on a deeper tint by the contrast of colors.

The pile of rough corn diminishes rapidly, the shucks are being carried away by the boys, who have some high old times practicing gymnastics on the yielding pile, and the glistening ears fall thick and fast on the accumulating pile of clear corn.

There has been an interesting light in the East for some minutes, and now the full autumn moon rises above the tree tops, and glides up the purple sky in all majestic and bewildering splendor. By her light we see the dusky faces, and the fantastic movements of the long rows of brawny arms that are busily working, all unconscious of the hardness of the labor, so interested are they in the songs of the leader.

Suddenly, at a signal from Charlie, all hands stop, and the "Old Marster" approaches the leader with a fat looking brown jug and a tin cup. He speaks a word to Charlie, who makes obeisance, and in a loud voice calls out:

"Silence! Gens'l en friends! I drinks dis to de healt ob de good marster, de mistis, de young master, de missies, may dey live long an' be happy!" Amid prolonged cheers the toast is drunk first by Charlie, and then the jug is passed along the line, each man drinking his "speck" to de marster and mistis; should the first give out another is put in the hands of the servant, and particular pains is taken to see that all are treated alike. Then the leader strikes up:

Fifty weight o' Johnny cake
Fifty weight o' cheese,
A big piece o' hammy,
An' a little pot o' peas.

Oh Johnny, ain't ya ash cake done, my darlin'?

Johnny, ain't ya ash cake done, my darlin'?

Away they go, and the laugh and song, included with just at the expense of the leader, who is sure to be ready with a fitting repartee, are kept until the last nibbler is shucked. Then comes the tug of war. For some time there has been waiting on the benches from the great kitchen a most delicious aroma. Now the tables are laid with a bounteous repast for the white neighbors in doors. For the darkeys, who are in the majority, long tables have been improvised beneath the great trees in the yard. Large fires are kindled so that the tables are well lighted, and brawny servant maids cast long side-glances at bashful-looking swains of dusky hue, as they move briskly, piling up and arranging loaves of brown bread and the dishes of meats, potatoes, vegetables and other ceteras. Charlie directs the movements of the banqueters, and they are soon ranged along each side of the long table.

"Hats off, boys, an' 'tention while Popper Joe axes de blessing!" A venerable negro, whose woolly locks are scant and gray, approaches the head of the board. Slowly and reverently he lifts his palsied and withered hand. All heads are instantly bowed in reverence.

"O! Heav'nly Marster! Bless 'im in braskin' an' in store. Bless 'o family, an' 's servants, an' 'e prop'y, an' all dat am his'n. An' grant, oh! good Lord, an' sanctify dis food to de good ob our po'ishin' bodies, an' feed our souls on de bread of life, fo' Jesus' sake. Amen!"

"Now, des' he'p yo'selves, boys," cries Charlie, and straightway they proceed to devour the tempting viands. After supper, in response to a request from the master, they sing a few of their wild plantation songs, and then disperse in all directions.—M. M. Folsom, in the Valdosta, Ga. Times.

There is some discussion upon the equestrian performance of cowboys, shared the defenders and opponents of the western riders. One says: "Take a cowboy cutting out cattle. He sits his horse with perfect grace, scarcely a perceptible motion in seat, while the horse is going at full speed. But when the cowboy comes East and rides a trotting horse in the English style his horsemanship meets a severer test. A master of a riding school near Boston says that one of the most singular pupils was a cowboy who could not keep his seat on an English saddle."

DANGER!

The Republicans Meet But Decide to Transact No Business Just Yet.

The Democrats to Have a Council and Cool Heads Caution Against Trouble.

OHIO SENATE.

The Republican Wing Meet Early this Morning.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 25.—The republican senate met at 10 a. m. with all the members present and the democrats absent as well as Clerk Vallandigham. President Kennedy ordered the reading of the journal of Saturday, after which nothing was done for want of a quorum.

The president retained the chair waiting for the arrival of the democratic members. It is expected this will be the program until 4 p. m., the hour to which the democratic senate adjourned on Friday. A good sized lobby is present and the best of feeling prevails.

The majority of the republicans in the senate agreed on a general line of action: That no business shall be transacted until an understanding is reached as to the powers and differences between the democratic majority and the presiding officer.

The feeling between the factions is more bitter than ever this morning. Cooler heads on both sides are cautioning against violence. Both parties will have a caucus to-night and will arrange a program.

John F. Follett arrived with the democratic senators from Hamilton county. Ex-Gov. Noyes arrived at noon. It is said he will consult with the Republicans. The democrats are considering a plan to prevent a conflict by holding their session in some other room, but nothing is yet determined.

Governor Foraker is preparing a message to send to the republican senate in order to give it official recognition. The democratic caucus has decided to enter the senate chamber promptly at 4 o'clock. The republicans are still in session and say they will adjourn if the democrats do not come in promptly.

3:30 p. m.—The senate chamber is jammed as the hour of 4 approaches. The clerk says he will stand by the majority under the rule. A conflict will be between him and the president of the senate.

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Wheat, 81 1/2 cash. Corn, 30 1/2 cash and Feb. Oats, 29 1/2 cash. Rye, 57 1/2. Barley, 64. Flaxseed, 31 1/2. Whiskey, $1.16. Pork, easy, $10.80 cash and February. Lard, $6.12 1/2 cash and February.

A NEW YORK letter says: "Walking through Central Park last week with a friend, we met six or eight children walking and presided over by three teachers. 'Who do you suppose they are?' asked my friend. 'A little aristocratic private school,' I said. 'No,' he said, 'those infants are not all of an age, as they look. The oldest is 9. They are the children of ex-President Harrison, of Guatemala, who was slain in battle while trying the mad experiment of uniting the Central American republics against their will. His widow lives in that house yonder on the other side of Fifth avenue—the double house. Barrios, the dictator, was worth $30,000,000, they say, but some of it got away. She has only $8,000,000, poor thing. She is a splendid Spanish beauty—one of the handsomest women in New York.'"

Dr. C. T. Melzheimer and wife, of Bluffton, are in the city.

A PIONEER DEAD.

Mr. Jeremiah Donavin, of Vincennes, Expires Suddenly—His Residence Here.

Jeremiah Donavin, the oldest citizen of Knox county, died at 3 o'clock last Friday morning, at the home of his son, Ralph, near the Highlands, three miles from Vincennes. He died rather unexpectedly, having been unusually bright for several hours before the summons. He was in his ninety-sixth or ninety-seventh year. His life was an active, as well as a long one. He went to Vincennes early in the present century and engaged in the tanning business with John Cleves Symmes Harrison, a son of President Harrison. He was for thirty years the marshal of the borough of Vincennes, and afterwards of the city, serving with a valor and efficiency that distinguished him in the annals and traditions of the old post. Up to some five years ago Mr. Donavin was a resident of Fort Wayne, residing with his daughter, Mrs. Michael Hedekin. His eight grew dim from his extreme age and of late his son has kindly nursed him. Mrs. Hedekin and his grandchild, Mr. Ralph Donavin, are at Vincennes to attend the funeral.

KILLED IN A FIGHT.

Philip DeWan, a Fort Wayne Boy, Brained at Chicago.

Lieut. Frank Wilkinson to-day received information from Chicago, that Philip DeWan, of Fort Wayne, was killed in a fight there. DeWan and his companions were drinking in a saloon, as the story goes, and a quarrel arose, in the course of which the Fort Wayne boy was brained and is now a corpse to await the disposition of relatives. Philip DeWan was born and raised here. He was long a switchman in the Pittsburgh yards. His mother and sisters live on Chicago street and keep a boarding house. The sad end of the young fellow is to be regretted.

Resolutions of Condolence.

At a special meeting of the Wabash employes, a committee of five, with the chairman added, was appointed to draft suitable resolutions on the death of Mrs. J. B. Barnes, which are as follows:

WHEREAS, We, the employes of the Wabash shops, regard this an opportune moment in hearing testimony to the high character and never ending kindness to the poor, of the late Mrs. J. B. Barnes, the beloved wife of our superior officer,

Resolved, That we tender to her grief-stricken husband our sincere sympathy and condolences, and pray that our Heavenly Father may comfort him in this, the saddest trial of his life.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted by the secretary to the husband of the deceased and also a copy furnished to each of the daily papers of the city.

The Renowned, Brave, Little Nation will Fight to the Bitter End

The Bulgarian Scheme to Absorb 100,000,000 of Its People in Eastern Roumelia.

THE GREEKS

Will Fight Against the Absorption of Their People.

By Cable to THE SENTINEL.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—The Greek minister, in an interview to-day respecting the warlike news published this morning from Athens, says: "The Greek king, government and people will fight to the bitter end before they will allow Bulgaria to absorb 100,000,000 people belonging to the Greek race, which it will certainly do if the union of Bulgaria and Eastern Roumelia is recognized."

LONDON, Jan. 25.—Admiral Lord John Hay, commanding the Mediterranean squadron, has received instructions as to the course he shall pursue in the event of it becoming necessary for him to take action on England's demand of Greece to disarm.

In the house of commons this afternoon, Mr. Bonrke, political secretary of the foreign office, said that at the instance of England the six great powers notified the Greeks yesterday that a naval attack by Greece upon Turkey would not be permitted.

DISGUST EXPRESSED

At the Queen's Speech on the Irish Question.

By Cable to THE SENTINEL.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—A dispatch from Rome says the Montieu, of Rome, the organ of the Vatican, expresses annoyance and disgust at the opposition displayed in the queen's speech to the sundering of the legislative union between Great Britain and Ireland. The Montieu longs for the time to come when the world shall see Protestantism entirely exterminated from Ireland and Catholicism universally recognized.

Gospel Meeting.

The Temperance revival, under the leadership of Messrs. Hughes and Ward, has been a source of much good to this city and especially the eight hundred or more who signed the pledge. No one can estimate the wide reaching influence of these temperance workers. It is necessary that our churches should follow up this vantage ground; hence, Rev. S. A. Northrop and his congregation have decided to go on with gospel meetings, beginning this evening at 7:30. Mason Long will speak and will be succeeded by a talk from the pastor. The large chorus choir will lead the singing. Temperance workers come! Pledge-signers welcome!

Twenty-five cents to Japan, including supper. F. P. Randall's residence next Wednesday and Thursday evenings, January 27 and 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Shisler, of Middlebury, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Schaefer, of Abbot township, this county.

Mrs. Judge Robert Lowry and daughter, Miss Lida, left Saturday evening for Washington, D. C., to remain during the session of congress.

The "Shadows of a Great City" will be presented in Fort Wayne February 10 and 11, with the same cast and scenic effects as in New York City.

Invitations are out for a birthday party to be given by Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Seavey, to-morrow evening. Progressive cards will be the feature of the occasion.

The Muncie polo club will play the Princess team here next Wednesday and Thursday. The contests will be for blood, as considerable rivalry exists between the two clubs.

Mrs. Frank Keefe, wife of Conductor Keefe, of the Wabash road, has received $2,000, the amount of insurance held by her husband in the Brotherhood, of which he was a member.

Mrs. Hanna Nirdlinger is now in possession of the cigar and tobacco stock of Harry Rubin. The stock was transferred to her on an ant for $4,000, instituted for her by Mr. W. P. Breen.

The Princess polo team again defeated the Huntington boys Saturday night. The Princess team shortly go to Delphos and the champion Mansfield club is booked here for two games of polo.

Deputy Prosecutor Bittinger has issued warrants for the arrest of the two unknown men who assaulted and robbed Mrs. Servia Bair, the petite German woman, who lives at 283 East Jefferson street.

Brady & Garwood will follow up this week's engagement with Mestayer's "Tourists in a Pullman Palace Car," at the Academy. This is one of the funniest things on the road, and draws like a porous plaster.

Joe Emmet will sing his famous songs, "Lullaby," "Cuckoo," "Mountain Guide," "Castle Belle (with chimps)," "Come Kiss Me, Darling," "I Was a Swell," "Love of the Shamrock," and others at the Temple to-night.

Sneak thieves got into the residence of Dink Trentman, on Clinton street, last night. Mrs. Trentman and the maid, who were up stairs, heard the intruders and alarmed the household. The thieves fled without securing any booty.

"Joseph Stults was at Fort Wayne Friday, and visited the medical college while there. Uncle Joe will not, however, begin the practice of medicine—not, at least, just at the present time, though he was well pleased with his visit," says the Huntington Herald.

About 26,000 tons of freight were last week shipped outward from Chicago, the increase being 2,470 tons. Of this traffic 96.6 per cent. went over the Vanderbilt tracks and 30.5 on the Pennsylvania roads. The Pittsburg road carried 4,694 tons, the largest shipment, and the Nickel Plate carried 2,163 tons.

Scalpers' rate sheets at St. Paul quote Washington and Baltimore rates over the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago and the Pennsylvania at $16 and $13 for first and second class business, respectively. If this report is true it is a cut of $1 made by the brokers, which is equally as demoralizing as if made at the regular office.

H. C. Boughton, train master of the Wabash at Peru, is in the city.

Mr. A. W. Maehen, of Toledo, was the guest of Mr. Rob DeWald yesterday.

Mr. W. P. Breen filed the suit for Mrs. Hannah Nirdlinger against Louis Bourie.

Barney McCauly will not appear here as booked. He is drinking again and his company is disbanding.

Engineer Jeff White, of the Grand Rapids road, and whose wife died a week ago, is now seriously ill.

The circuit court will not be in session this week. Judge O'Rourke will convene that tribunal one week from to-day.

The livery stables did a land office business yesterday as everybody, who could boast of one, had his best and sweetest girl out.

Mason Long offered $2,400 a year for the Temple. This was all the association asked, but afterwards they disagreed on the terms of the lease.

Adolph Lewyn has sued L. M. Jacobs and Louis Heilbrunner for $1,000. Morris & Barrett and C. H. Aldrich are attorneys for the plaintiff.

The Wabash company is cutting ice at Toledo for shipment along the line from there to St. Louis. They put up forty one car loads Saturday.

Judge Hench gave these judgments this morning: Henry Kloska vs. John Rohrbach, for $1,067; Edward Sidel vs. Wm. S. Thompson, for $500.

The cottage meeting of the R. B. Y. M. C. A. will be held at the residence of D. F. More, 32 Brackenridge street, on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, standard time.

"I want the music of the 'Mikado,'" said a little boy entering a music store. "For singing or the piano?" "I don't want it for either. I want it for my sister."

A Pittsburg freight train broke in two parts, just west of Coesse, this morning and in coming together three cars were derailed. Trains were stopped two hours.

The indications for the lower lake region, as reported by the weather bureau at Washington to THE SENTINEL, are as follows: Local rains and snows, warmer weather.

Harry Rubin is into some controversy regarding the failure of his house, and yesterday was searching for Max Rubin with a pistol in his hands. The officers and friends quieted him.

In the case of David Jacobs, who was convicted of manslaughter in the Steuben court, the motion for a new trial was overruled and a sentence of twenty-one years was passed against him.

Gospel meetings at the Second Presbyterian church, West Berry street, every afternoon and evening during this week, beginning this evening, conducted by Rev. E. M. Paynter, of Chicago.

County Treasurer Delman has so far redeemed $175,000 county orders. They will all be redeemed this week as they now come in in remnants. $169,000 county orders were redeemed Saturday. They were held by the banks and Judge Cheney.

The White victor net lock, owned by Hon. R. C. Bell, Supt. W. W. Worthington and Luther N. White, may be made in the Muncie shops. The articles of association, drafted Saturday with a capital stock of $100,000, have been forwarded to the secretary of state for record.

Miss Annie McCormick, of this city, now visiting friends at Timaville, Pa., recently won a pair of silver mounted club skates in a contest against seventeen other ladies of that city. Miss McCormick is one of the most graceful skaters that has ever glided upon our local floors, and her many friends in this city will be gratified to learn of her recent success.

On Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week the famous polo team, of Muncie, said to be one of the best in the west, will tackle the Princess club at the Princess rink. On a recent visit to Muncie of the Fort Wayne, during which two games were played, the result was a tie. Those will be exciting games and those interested in this kind of sport should not fail to attend.

McKNIGHT'S RECEPTION.

A Vast Assembly of Fort Wayne's Intellectual and Refined Youthful Society.

It was a charming spectacle, the assembled host of Fort Wayne's most genteel classes of youthful society, at the Masonic Temple, Saturday afternoon. They had gathered there to hear Arthur O. McKnight talk about oratory and vocal training, and a very instructive and interesting lecture he gave them. The value of a good voice in the everyday walks of life was clearly shown, and the neglected voice was a thoroughly proven stumbling-block to many otherwise capable persons. Gymnastic vocal culture develops and strengthens the voice, just as gymnastic exercise develops and strengthens every part of the body. An insignificant voice makes its possessor appear insignificant, be he ever so bright and talented. The voice is made in childhood, and is far more frequently impaired or ruined than properly developed. High tones are dangerous; forced tones are protesting; and throat formed tones are ruinous to the voice. Children should be taught to use the tongue, lips, and teeth correctly, and to make natural chest and head tones. In connection with his regular work, Prof. McKnight will devote about forty minutes daily for the next ten weeks to the instruction of Fort Wayne's school-going youth, the first lesson being given at 4:30 p. m. to-day at Masonic Temple. The chance is one of a life time, as these lessons are free. Mr. McKnight will rely wholly upon meeting the heavy expense attending these long course of free instruction from the rendition of a chaste and beautiful fairy opera, "The Mission of Justice and Mercy" or "The Naisad Queen," which was written expressly for him as an incentive to a vocal practice for the strengthening of his notes, and which will be rendered by several hundred members of his classes at the close of the session, probably sometime in April.

Opening of the Academy.

Messrs. Brady & Garwood open the Academy as a popular play house to-night, the Starr-Harris Opera company presenting the "Mascotte." The company was at Toledo last week and the Bee says: "The engagement of the Starr-Harris Opera company at the People's theater this week has been a phenomenal success. There has been nothing like it in the history of Toledo amusements this season. The house has been packed to the door at each performance, and the matinees have been attended by the best ladies of the city. The company richly deserve its success. They have given us a succession of light operas, including 'The Mascotte,' 'The Mikado,' 'Chimes of Normandy,' and 'Olivette,' in a most charming style. The company have no remarkable voices among them, but all are fair singers and good actors. Messrs. Brady & Garwood have reaped a well-deserved harvest."

Hon. Frank A. C. McManus, of St. Louis, formerly of this city, in which he was known as one of our most brilliant young lawyers, is very cleverly represented in the Mikado cartoon of the St. Louis four courts, in Whip, a paper published in St. Louis, after the style of Puck. Frank is prominently shown in a powerful chorae; indeed, the entire cast exhibits in flaring colors the great legal luminaries whose forensic eloquence has so often echoed through the dingy old walls of St. Louis' temple of justice.

Collins and Smith, two boys were fined by the mayor this morning for creating a disturbance in John Kern's saloon. The father of young Collins had Kern arrested for selling liquor to his minor son, and the business cost the liquor man $20 and costs.

The Nickel Plate Railroad Company Files an Answer to the Equipment Company.

Hon. R. C. Bell, who is western counsel for the Nickel Plate Railroad company, tells us that two more important papers in the Nickel Plate foreclosure suit were filed at Cleveland Saturday, being the answers of that company and of the Union Trust company, of New York, to the cross petition of George J. McTourney and Samuel Shelhar, filed in behalf of the Equipment company, and claiming the rolling stock equipments of the road to the value of $40,000,000. The Nickel Plate company claims in its answer that the purchase price of the equipment was $5,409,732; that about $2,000,000 had been paid before the agreement under which the cross petitioner claims his right of action was made; that the Nickel Plate company never had control of the trust fund deposited with the Metropolitan National bank, of New York, nor any certificates of deposit; that $670,287 had been deposited there prior to January 1, 1895, which was invested in worthless securities, and that the bank became insolvent, and that the cross petitioner had not kept the terms of the contract. The court is asked to require of the equipment company a full account of expenditures for equipments and pay the trust fund into court. The Union Trust company asks that the equipment be used to pay the debts of the company.

JUST AS BAD AS PAINTED.

Widespread Commotion Caused by the Terrible Confession of a Physician.

The story published in these columns recently, from the Rochester, N. Y., Democrat and Chronicle, created a deal of comment here as it has elsewhere. Apparently it caused even more commotion in Rochester, as the following from the same paper shows:

Dr. J. B. Henion, who is well-known not only in Rochester, but in nearly every part of America, sent an extended article to this paper a few days ago which was duly published, detailing his remarkable experiences and rescue from what seemed to be certain death. It would be impossible to enumerate the personal inquiries which have been made at our office as to the validity of the article, but they have been so numerous that further investigation of the subject was deemed necessary. With this end in view a representative of this paper called on Dr. Henion at his residence on Andrews street, when the following interview occurred: "That article of yours, Doctor, has created quite a whirlwind. Are the statements about the terrible condition you were in, and the way you were rescued, such as you can sustain?" "Every one of them and many additional ones. I was brought so low by neglecting the first and most simple symptoms. I did not think I was sick. It is true I had frequent headaches; felt tired most of the time; could eat nothing one day and was ravenous the next; felt dull pains and my stomach was out of order, but I did not think it meant anything serious. The medical profession has been treating symptoms instead of diseases for years, and it is high time it ceased. The symptoms I have just mentioned, or any unusual action or irritation of the water channels indicate the approach of kidney disease more than a cough announces the coming of consumption. We do not treat the cough but try to help the lungs. We should not waste our time trying to relieve the headaches, pains about the body or other symptoms, but go directly to the kidneys, the source of most of these ailments."

"This, then, is what you meant when you said that more than one-half the deaths which occur arise from Bright's disease, is it doctor?" "Precisely. Thousands of diseases are torturing people to-day which in reality are Bright's disease in some of its many forms. It is a hydra-headed monster, and the slightest symptoms should strike terror to every one who has them. I can look back and recall hundreds of deaths which physicians declared at the time were caused by paralysis, apoplexy, heart disease, pneumonia, malarial fever and other common complaints, which I see now were caused by Bright's disease."

"And did all these cases have simple symptoms at first?" "Every one of them, and might have been cured as I was by the timely use of the same remedy. I am getting my eyes thoroughly opened in this matter and think I am helping others to see the facts and their possible danger also."

Mr. Warner, who was visited at his establishment on North St. Paul street, spoke very earnestly:

"It is true that Bright's disease had increased wonderfully, and we find, by reliable statistics that from '70 to '80, its growth was over 250 per cent. Look at the prominent men it has carried off, and is taking off every year, for while many are dying apparently of paralysis and apoplexy, they are really victims of kidney disorder, which causes heart disease, paralysis, apoplexy, etc. Nearly every week the papers record the death of some prominent man from this scourge. Recently, however, the increase has been checked and I attribute this to the general use of my remedy."

"Did you think many people are afflicted with it to-day who do not realize it?" "A prominent professor in a New Orleans medical college was lecturing before his class on the subject of Bright's disease. He had various fluids under microscopic analysis and was showing the students what the indications of this terrible malady were. 'And now, gentlemen,' he said, 'we have seen the authentic indications. I will show you how it appears in a state of perfect health,' and he submitted his own fluid to the usual test. As he watched the result his countenance suddenly changed—his color and command suddenly left him and in a trembling voice he said: 'Gentlemen, I have made a painful discovery; I have Bright's disease of the kidneys. And in less than a year he was dead. The slightest indication of any kidney difficulty is enough to strike terror to any one.'

"You know of Dr. Henion's case?" "Yes I have both read and heard of it." "It is very wonderful, is it not?" "No more so than a great many others that have come to my notice as having been cured by the same means."

"You believe then that Bright's disease can be cured?" "I know it can. I know it from my own and the experience of thousands of prominent persons who were given up to die by both their physicians and friends."

"You speak of your own experience; what was it?"

"A fearful one. I had felt languid and unfit for business for years. But I did not know what ailed me. When, however, I found it was kidney difficulty I thought there was little hope and so did the doctors. I have since learned that one of the physicians, of this city pointed me out to a gentleman on the street one day, saying: 'There goes a man who will be dead within a year.' I believe his words would have proved true if I had not providentially used the remedy now known as Warner's Safe Cure."

"Did you make a chemical analysis of the case of Mr. H. H. Warner some three years ago, Doctor?" "I was asked Dr. B. A. Lattimore, one of the analysts of the state board of health."

"Yes, sir."

"What did this analysis show you?" "A serious disease of the kidneys."

"Did you think Mr. Warner could recover?"

"No sir. I did not think it possible." "Do you know anything about the remedy which cured him?" "I have chemically analyzed it and find it pure and harmless."

Dr. Henion was cured five years ago and is well and attending to his professional duties to-day, in this city. The standing of Dr. Henion, Mr. Warner and Dr. Lattimore in the community is beyond question, and the statements they make cannot for a moment be doubted. Dr. Henion's experiences show that Bright's disease of the kidneys is one of the most deceptive and dangerous of all diseases, that it is exceedingly common, but that it can be cured if taken in time.

EMERSON.

Perhaps the most valuable and lasting of Emerson's characteristics is his intense suggestiveness, says a writer in the Gentleman's Magazine. He strides across the field of our mind scattering the seeds of thought to right and to left. "The greatest poet," says Sainte-Beuve, "is not he who has done the best; it is he who suggests the most; he not all of whose meaning is at first obvious, and who leaves you much to desire, to explain, to study, much to complete in your turn." Judged by this standard Emerson's influence upon his own generation and upon generations to come will be second to none. The late George Dawson once remarked to a relative of the writer that he could never sufficiently acknowledge his indebtedness to Emerson's suggestiveness. "If any one can be said to have given the impulse to my mind," said Prof. Tyndall, "it is Emerson." "Whatever I have done the world owes to him," and he tells us how through three long, dreary German winters he must needs get up at 5 in the morning to read his works. Carlyle writes that in Emerson's poems he finds "some tone of the eternal melodies sounding, afar off, ever and anon, in my ear," which affects me like the light of the stars." Mr. Matthew Arnold, the critic of the day, even in this age of critics, considers Emerson's "Essays" the most important prose production of the whole century, and we do not think future ages will reverse his verdict.

Although a religious and moral teacher of the loftiest and purest stamp, Emerson is no theologian. He is essentially the prophet of intellectual and moral greatness, and devotes all his energies thereto. "It is very certain," he writes, "that we ought not to be and shall not be contented with any goal we have reached. Our aim is no less than greatness; that which invites belongs to us all—to which we are all sometimes untrue, cowardly, faithless, but of which we never quite despair, and which in every sane moment we resolve to make our own."

"100 doses one dollar" is true only of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it is an unwarrantable argument as to strength and economy.

In the Dear Old Days.

We differ in creed and politics, but we are a unit all the same on the desirableness of a fine head of hair. If you mourn the loss of this blessing and ornament, a bottle or two of Parker's Hair Balsam will make you look as you did in the dear old days. It is worth trying. It is the only standard 50c article for the hair.
